SEARCH BEING MADE FOR PITTSBURGH MAN

John Kochendoerfe. Sent Check to His Wife for All His Money Then Disappeared.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—S. B. Donaldson, a lawyer of Pittsburgh, came here today and applied at police headquarters for assistance in searching for John Kochendoerfer of Pittsburgh. About June 20 Mr. Kochendoerfer, who had been traveling for his health, left his wife at St. Augustine, Fla., and started north. He is known to have stopped a day in Baltimore and under date of June 26 wrote from Philadelphia to Mr. Donaldson, his legal adviser.

In this letter he said he was suffering from great mental depression and requested the lawyer to look after the welfare of his family. On June 28 Mrs. Kochendoerfer received a letter from her husband from this city enclosing a check for all his money remaining in the Union National bank of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Donaldson says these letters have led him to fear his client has committed suicide. Mr. Kochendoerfer was about 60 years old.

The directory gives the residence of Mr. Kochendoerfer as 2282 Wylie avenue and his business is given as linotype machinist.

THIRTEEN DEAD HEAT VICTIMS OF YESTERDAY

Awful Record Is Likely to Be Added to Later.

NINE OTHERS IN GRAVE CONDITION

Local Weather Observers Promise No Relief and Say It Will Be Warmer.

SALVATION ARMY TO BEGIN ICE DONATIONS

The heat of yesterday made a gruesome record in this city and its surrounding suburbs. Thirteen persons died from its effects and scores were prostrated, 10 of them being in a serious condition. This makes 17 dead in two days.

The mercury only reached 91, and the humidity was lower than on Sunday, but more people were abroad and working, and the rays from a sun, unobscured by clouds, save for a few minutes, did dreadful work. The local weather bureau not only promises no relief, but says today will be still hotter than yesterday.

The list of dead and serious prostrations follows:

The Dead.

ANTONIO TASTALA, 50 years of age, prostrated on Sunday; died at his home, Tent street, Braddock, at 9:30 last night.

ALICE ALLEN, 2 months of age, daughter of John Allen, No. 46 North Highland avenue, Rankin; died of heat prostration yesterday afternoon.

MRS. ROBERT BEATLING, 60 years of age, of Ranksville; died yesterday noon from the effects of sunstroke. She had been working in the garden in front of her home when she was overcome.

ADA WIGGINS, 1 year old, of Woodland road, near Cottage avenue; died of heat exhaustion yesterday afternoon.

MRS. CAROLINE ESPE, 73 years of age, died last night at her home, No. 225 Seventh avenue, Homestead, of heat prostration.

MICHAEL SAMBO, 8 months of age, son of John Sambo, No. 17 Tenth street, Braddock; died yesterday afternoon of the heat.

JOHN PFIEFER, 4 months old, of Oakmont; died at the home of his parents yesterday morning of heat exhaustion. The child was taken ill Sunday.

MICHAEL YARCY, 28 years old, of Carson street; died of heat exhaustion in the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon. He was overcome by the heat in the Singer & Nimick mills.

JAMES ROY, 20 years old, of Perrysville avenue, Allegheny; died of heat exhaustion at the Mercy hospital yesterday.

JAMES BULGER, 7 months old, of No. 2255 Webster avenue; died of heat exhaustion yesterday afternoon.

GERTRUDE NEULIAURE, 1 year old, of No. 225 Atwood street; died of heat exhaustion last night at the home of her parents.

JOHN ZOPNOSKI, Duquesne, drowned in Monongahela river while swimming to get cooled off. Body recovered.

ANTONY ERZITIESH, a Pole, was overcome by the heat while at work in Jones & Laughlin's last night and died in the Mercy hospital a few hours later.

Serious Cases.

JOHN KILBOURN, 30 years of age, an electrician in the wire mill at Rankin; was prostrated last night at 10 o'clock. He was in a very critical condition when taken to his home in Fifth street, Rankin.

JAMES TOMER, 50 years of age, Oak Hill; serious.

M. J. HEFLEY, Thirteenth avenue, Homestead; prostrated in the street; taken home; serious.

FELIX GALLAGHER, 35 years of age, Brinton; prostrated and struck by street car; very serious.

GERTRUDE GRAHAM, No. 231 Collins avenue; twice in hospital and last night was in convulsions.

SAMUEL BROBATICH, mill worker; at South Side hospital in critical condition.

WALTER L. DUNN, a telephone lineman; fell from a pole at Atwood and Louisa streets yesterday noon, being affected by the heat; taken to Mercy hospital; serious.

TONY EDZITIESH, Pole, aged 30, laborer at Jones & Laughlins; overcome by heat while at work early in the evening; taken to Mercy hospital; condition serious.

UNKNOWN FOREIGNER, aged about 35; overcome in McKees Rocks about 6 p. m.; taken to St. John's hospital.

All persons who formed the opinion that yesterday was the hottest day of the season were wrong. The hottest hour of the day yesterday was 2 o'clock, when the mercury stood at 91. On Saturday the mercury got up to 95, and on Sunday it was 91. It would have been hotter on Saturday if the thunderstorm had not come up about 2 o'clock.

The persons who formed the opinion that yesterday was an excessively hot July 7 were right. In 12 years there has been but one July 7 when it was as hot as it was yesterday, and this was in 1890. The mercury then registered 91. The average temperature for July 7 for the past 12 years was 80 degrees.

It is not going to be much cooler today than it has been, and it may be hotter. There are good indications that there will be a thunderstorm, and if these is the mercury will drop a little, but it will climb up again, so that before night it will have registered past 90.

Millmen Suffered.

The heat was very severe on millmen. In the Jones & Laughlins mills over 50 men had to quit work and go home. A number of them were prostrated, but as old millmen stop work as soon as they feel the peculiar heat exhaustion coming on, there were few of them who were not able to go home alone. These few were taken home by friends. In the other South Side mills there were many men who had to knock off work. About 35 men had to quit in the Homestead steel works, and about 75 of the men employed in the Edgar Thomson works, Braddock, could not stand the excessive heat long enough to finish their day's labor.

Thirty men had to quit work in the Westinghouse electric works, East Pittsburgh. James Tomer, 50 years of age, who lives at Oak Hill, in North Versailles

THE HON. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN,
British Secretary of State for the Colonies, Painfully Injured in a Hansom Cab Accident.

CHAMBERLAIN IS SEVERELY HURT BY AN ACCIDENT

British Colonial Secretary Injured in His Cab.

SUFFERING FROM WOUND ON SCALP

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 7.—The colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, was somewhat severely cut on the head this afternoon as the result of a cab accident in Whitehall.

The secretary's hansom was passing through the Canadian arch when the horse slipped and Mr. Chamberlain was precipitated forward with great violence. His head struck and shattered the glass front of the cab. When extricated it was seen that Mr. Chamberlain's head was badly lacerated and bleeding profusely. A policeman helped the secretary into a cab and accompanied him to Charing Cross hospital, where his injuries were dressed.

Though Mr. Chamberlain's wounds bled a great deal they were not serious. Nevertheless he was sufficiently injured to necessitate his remaining at the hospital all night.

When picked up Mr. Chamberlain, in reply to a question, said he did not feel faint, but could not afford to lose such a lot of blod. The gash on his forehead required a number of stitches.

Mr. Chamberlain is resting quietly, but the doctors are not sure he can be moved tomorrow. Mrs. Chamberlain remained at the hospital until a late hour.

The following bulletin was issued this evening from the hospital:

"Mr. Chamberlain is suffering from a scalp wound on the forehead. He is free from pain and feeling comfortable. There is no concussion."

TRACY IS AGAIN BACK IN THE WOODS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SEATTLE, WASH., July 7.—At the extreme head of Miller's bay the Whitehall boat which carried Harry Tracy and the farmhand, Anderson, away from Port Madison Saturday night has been found. In it was a pair of oars. Everything else had been carried away.

The boat had been pulled in from the beach and stowed away in a clump of bushes, and Tracy evidently felt secure in the belief that it would not be found for several days at least.

The head of Miller's bay is but a few miles overland from Port Gamble. It is directly north of the Port Madison Indian reservation, where, according to an Indian woman, Tracy was seen this afternoon. Sheriff Cook, with a posse left Port Madison early this morning to search the Miller's bay district in response to information received from the Indian reservation.

Immediately after the discovery of the boat, the party discovered a fresh trail leading into the forest. Tracks of two men were plainly discernable, and there was no doubt in the minds of the members of the posse that they were hot on the track of Tracy and his unwilling partner, Anderson.

WILLIAM CLARK DEAD.

The Celebrated Thread Manufacturer Passes Away in England.

NEWARK, N. J., July 7.—Word was received here tonight that William Clark, the thread manufacturer, died today in England.

Mr. Clark was one of the largest manufacturers of thread in the world. He was born at Paisley, Scotland, in 1811. He came to this country in 1834 with his brother George and in a small way began the manufacture of cotton thread in a little building on the banks of the Passaic river in the upper part of this city. From that beginning there grew the great immense buildings many acres on both sides of the Passaic in this city. Mr. Clark's widow and four children survive him.

NATIVE IGNORANCE SPREADS CHOLERA IN PHILIPPINES

Most Dangerous Visitation Since the Epidemic of 20 Years Ago in the Islands.

HAS ATTACKED THE ARMY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Not since 1882, when the native population of the Philippines was decimated by a virulent epidemic of Asiatic cholera, has there been such an attack of the disease as is now ravaging the archipelago. Officers returning from the Philippines express the fear that the mortality will approach the figures attained 20 years ago. Because the natives are ignorant of the simplest rules of hygiene and sanitation, the epidemic is bound to increase during the hot weeks to come, and the only relief which can be looked for is the rainy season, in August or September.

The disease has made inroads into the army and has scored fully 100 deaths. The natives are numb with fear of the cholera.

The medical corps of the army and the officers of the United States marine hospital corps have co-operated with success in keeping the cholera confined to the Philipines.

Reports from Col. Heisemann, chief medical officer of the Philippines up to May 15, are the last received here. They say that in Manila there had been 1,005 cases and 800 deaths. There were 23 cases where Americans were stricken and 13 deaths. Thirteen Europeans were stricken and 10 deaths occurred. The strictest kind of quarantine is maintained at Manila and all the ports in the Philippines.

City Freedom for Carnegie.

LONDON, July 7.—The municipality of St. Andrews, Scotland, will on July 18 bestow the freedom of that city on Andrew Carnegie and on Lord Elgin and Lord Balfour of Burleigh, trustees of the Carnegie university fund.

TWO ARE DYING FROM WOUNDS OF A FEUD BATTLE

West Virginia Families Engage in Terrible Conflict.

SEVERAL OTHERS SAID TO BE HURT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Charleston, W. Va., July 7.—News was received here tonight from Acme of a terrible feud battle which took place this forenoon in Jerrolds valley, a wild region on the upper Coal river, in the Cherry Pond mountains. Two men are said to be dying and others are reported to be severely injured. The scene of the conflict is nearly 20 miles from the telegraph station at Acme and only a few details have been received. Jerrolds valley is on the eastern border of Boone county.

The combatants were five members of the Hendricks family and four members of the Jerroid family. These families do not live near one another, but they have had a bitter feud for 10 or 12 years. Several serious encounters have taken place, but there has been no fatality. The head of one family is Peter F. Hendricks, postmaster at Orange, farther down the Coal river valley.

This morning Postmaster Hendricks and four of his kinsmen were on a fishing excursion up the river and daringly or thoughtlessly ventured into Jerrolds valley. They were met by four of the Jerroids. After a few heated words, revolvers were drawn by both sides and a terrible fight ensued. Those who did not have revolvers used knives and clubs.

Postmaster Hendricks was shot through the lungs and Orphea Jarroid was severely wounded in the abdomen. When the latter fell his kinsmen dragged him away. It is believed that both of these men will die. Nearly all the combatants were either cut or beaten. News of the fight was carried to the county seat, but no arrests have yet been made.

DRUNKEN HUSBAND IN A TRIPLE CRIME

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 7.—Carl von Boeckmann today shot and killed his wife, fatally wounded C. F. Farewell, a friend of the family, then sent a bullet through his own head. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. von Boeckmann in the upper part of Manhattan.

A sister of the dead woman said Von Boeckmann had served 18 months for burglary in a Massachusetts prison and that in the meantime his wife had put two of their five children in an institution, allowed another to be adopted, and supported herself and the other two. A few months ago Von Boeckmann went to live with his wife in the flat where the shooting occurred today, but took to drink, it is said, and treated his wife so badly that she caused his arrest.

He was sentenced to the island, but today returned and got into the flat while his wife was out. She heard of the visit and got Farewell to ask the police what could be done. He returned to the flat after receiving a promise that an officer would be sent to investigate. While Farewell was in the flat Von Boeckmann returned and began shooting. Farewell fought with him to get the pistol, but was overpowered. The coroner says neither of the men can live.

Schwab as a Yachtsman.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Special.)—It was remarked by yachtsmen down town today that Charles M. Schwab would be elected a member of the New York Yacht club July 17. Mr. Schwab has under charter Col. Francis Leland's steam yacht, Safa-el-Bahr, and will use it during the season cruising along the coast.

THE OYSTER BAY BANK.
The Second Floor Will Be Occupied as the Office of President Roosevelt.

THREE SMALL ROOMS THE HEADQUARTERS OF A GREAT NATION

They Were Being Prepared at Oyster Bay Yesterday as Offices of the President.

ROOSEVELT USES MUSCLE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 7.—President Roosevelt did not come to the village from Sagamore Hill today. Business of state is not yet in full swing, but probably will be tomorrow. Quarters for the nation's business are being prepared over the Oyster Bay bank building, in rooms heretofore known as the governor's suite.

For two summers, during Mr. Roosevelt's incumbency as governor of New York, the rooms were used as executive offices. They are not large or imposing, but will fully answer their requirements. The front room of the summer capital is 18x18 feet, with an anteroom 10x13.

This morning Assistant Secretary Loeb drove to the president's house, and with Secretary Cortelyou went over the heavy mail. After conferring with the president, the secretaries proceeded to the village to arrange for the headquarters.

President Roosevelt put his muscles into active operation this morning by engaging in a game of lawn tennis, and pretty thoroughly demonstrated that he was a master of the game and fully as agile as his boys, with whom he was playing. The president's daily exercises will consist of horseback riding, walking, rowing and swimming. The president will start on his New England trip August 28.

When the routine business begins on Wednesday, only those having appointments with the president will be permitted to pass through the established lines at Sagamore Hill.

Armor Plate to Be Proved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—(Special.)—At the Indian Head proving grounds tomorrow there will be three tests of armor pate, two from the Carnegie Company and one from the Bethlehem Company. The Carnegie Company will present a six-inch plate to take the place of a similar plate which recently failed, and a ten-inch plate, both representing armor for the battleship Missouri. The Bethlehem Company will present a four-inch plate representing side armor for the Pennsylvania and Colorado.

OVERDUE STEP FINALLY TAKEN BY COUNCILS

Common Branch Authorizes Polytechnic School Site Committee.

SELECT MAY HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

After almost two years of waiting, at which time Andrew Carnegie agreed to build one of the best polytechnical schools in the world in Pittsburgh, city councils have taken up the matter of providing a site for the institution.

At its meeting last night common council voted for the appointment of a committee of seven members to confer with the trustees regarding the selection and purchase of a site.

The matter was brought up in the form of a joint resolution offered by Common Councilman William H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward. President Charles S. Crawford of the common branch, after the resolution had passed, stated that he would delay the selection of the members from that branch for a few days.

It is just probable that a special meeting of select council will be called in order to pass upon the resolution. This meeting may be called before the close of the present week and at it the select council members of the committee may be selected.

Joint Meeting Probable.

If the councilmanic committee is completed before the close of the present week it may be that a joint meeting can be arranged between it and the committee on plan and scope next week. William N. Frew, chairman of the latter committee, is out of the city for the summer and William McConway, another member of the same committee, is away and will not return home until next week.

A majority of the members of the plan and scope committee of the Carnegie institute will be in the city next week, when the first conference between the two committees may be held.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that the site to be selected will be that on which City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan secured options from Mrs. Schenley in England some few months ago. The plots contain 52 acres and are bounded by Allequippa, Bayard and Bouquet streets, in the Bellefield district. The option price of the property is $1,400,000, and the present option expires January 1, next.

How to Raise Money.

Another very important problem which will be considered and decided by the councilmanic committee will be the manner in which the money will be raised to pay for the site for the school. The city has at present available $360,000 and the remainder of the purchase money will have to be raised.

That the city will be forced to issue bonds for the deficit of the amount required seems the only way to solve the problem. This will necessitate a new issue which will, in all probability, be made shortly after the first of next year.

The members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute have been urging councils to take up the matter of selecting a site for the new school, and now that resolutions have been passed by common council calling for a committee to be appointed the board of trustees, the committee on municipal relations and also the members of the committee of plan and scope will get down to hard work and before the close of the present year it is fully expected that the site will be purchased by the city and turned over to the board of trustees.

The start on the buildings of the new Polytechnical school will not be made this year. It will be quite impossible to complete all arrangements as to site and as to how finances will be raised.

STANDARD OIL FLEET.

To Build a Dozen Huge Steamships for Far Eastern Trade.

BOSTON, MASS., July 7.—(Special.)—It is authoritatively stated here that the Standard Oil Company will build in England for its oil trade in the far east 12 huge steamships, each of the size of the Kennebec, now loading in this port with 2,000,000 gallons of refined oil in cases for China and Japan.

What effect the use of the projected new steamers, which could carry 48,000,000 gallons of oil to the Orient annually, would have upon the large fleet of sailing vessels now engaged in this trade, is problematical, but it is probable that they would be driven to seek some other business.

FILTRATION GOES BACK TO THE PEOPLE

Common Council Puts Contract Ordinances on Shelf.

SAND METHOD IS TOO EXPENSIVE

South Side Members Against It Until Their Constituents Are Cared For.

LESLIE'S LETTER GOT A WARM RECEPTION

The question of a filtration system for the city of Pittsburgh will go back to the people. The form of the question is yet to be fixed upon. Common council last night approved the report of the filtration committee, recommending the ordinances negatively and postponed consideration of them indefinitely. The trend of sentiment in council was unmistakably in favor of submitting the question back to the people, because a sand filtration system had been fixed upon, and a bond issue of $2,500,000 voted under a misapprehension. A measure will be introduced in common councils providing an opportunity for the people to vote upon the matter again. The form of this is yet to be decided upon.

The report of the committee, and the detailed report of the sub-committee which handled the matter was presented by Chairman W. S. Woods of the filtration committee. The lengthy report of the sub-committee was included, and was read, as published heretofore by The Gazette. The committee recommended negatively the following ordinances: Providing for the awarding of contract No. 1, for the construction of filter basins, and appurtenances thereto, at a cost not to exceed $1,500,000; for the award of contract No. 2, providing for the purchase of pumping engines to cost $300,000; for the award of contract No. 3, providing for the construction of a filtered water reservoir, for pipe connections, and gate houses at a cost not to exceed $225,000; and ordinance providing for the establishing of a filtration bureau.

Filtration Held Up.

On motion of William Brand of the Seventeenth ward the report was received and filed. Chairman Woods then submitted a motion to postpone action on the above ordinances indefinitely. Mr. Brand spoke on the motion and insisted that the committee should have made some recommendations for something to take the place of sand filtration, and incidentally said that he himself is in doubt as to whether sand filtration is the best system. Chairman Woods answered him and said that the committee had simply dealt with what was before them, and that they had no power to make any recommendations, and that matter was for councils to decide.

Dr. G. W. McNeil, Twenty-first ward, said he would vote for filtration ordinances when the matter came legally before councils.

Jacob Soffel, Jr., Thirty-second ward, said he had promised his constituents that he would be for sand filtration if it would include the South Side, but that as it does not do so, he must be found against it until it includes the South Side.

Mechanical Filters Cheaper.

Dr. G. W. Sterrett spoke on the question and said that he thought a system of mechanical filters, scattered through the city, would meet the necessity. "It ought to go back to the people," he said. "Let them vote and say what they will do."

Thomas M. Brown—It would certainly cost over $2,000,000 more than we have on hand to build this proposed plant. It would cost $800,000 more to construct covers for the filter basins, and that has not been counted in. I am in favor of water as pure as flows by the throne of God himself, but I am against violation of law and business principles. The question should go back to the people.

Gebhart Sahner of the Twenty-seventh ward announced himself as being against the proposed plant until it takes in the South Side, where the people are compelled to use filthy water.

Had Big Majority.

The question of postponing the ordinance indefinitely was finally voted upon and prevailed, by the following vote:

Ayes—Baldauf, Barker, Beehner, Beckert, Bole, Brown, Crawford D. F., Fitzpatrick, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lewis, David, Martin, McNeil, Nichols, M. E. O'Brien, Thomas O'Brien, Reitz, Sahner, Schaad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterrett, Stevenson, Walls, Wasson, Woods, Zeuer, C. S. Crawford.—32.

Nays—Brand, Edwards, John Lewis, Moore, McNally, Schwarzwaelder, Semmelroch, Sheehan and West—9.

Richard McNally of the Thirteenth ward introduced a resolution thanking J. O. Brown, Director J. Guy McCandless, Director A. H. Leslie, Col. A. J. Logan, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, and other members of the committee, for the greatness of the celebration of July 4. After some debate, it was tabled without action. A motion to adopt the resolution was lost.

Leslie's Bouquet.

A communication was received from Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety referring to a resolution adopted by common council, asking the department to accept the services of Roger O'Mara and Sol Coulson on July 4. The communication said as these gentlemen had not tendered their services, they were not accepted. The director then said that the president had been well protected without the assistance of these gentlemen. He quoted from a morning paper to substantiate his assertions. The motion was made to receive and file. Harry A. Lamb, Eleventh ward, then said as one paper had been quoted, he would quote another just as reliable, and said that he had read in The Pittsburgh Gazette that the department of public safety had issued special police cards to newspaper men, members of committees and others, and that they had been ignored by the police. Messrs. W. H. Stevenson and Joseph Walls said they had cards, and that they were also turned down. The resolution and communication was [illegible] without action. Several members said Director Leslie was throwing bouquets at himself.

For the Big School.

W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward introduced a resolution, which was adopted, providing for the appointment of a joint committee of seven to confer with the plan and scope committee with reference to securing a site for the polytechnic school. Mr. Crawford will appoint the four common council members of the committee in a few days.

The resolution directing the city solicitor to enter suit against the Pittsburgh Junction railroad for violation of the non-bituminous coal provision of its franchise, which was postponed at the last meeting, was voted on, but failed of a legal majority. The statement was made by several members that the Baltimore & Ohio had promised to abate the nuisance.

Richard McNally, Thirteenth ward, introduced the following ordinances, which went to the proper committees: Authorizing the director of public safety to lease the property at the corner of Oak and Cherry alleys for the use of the Bureau of fire, property being owned by Isaac I. Jackson & Co., the city to pay an annual rental of $2,000 and take a four years' lease; providing for and regulating the slaughtering of fowls.

Weeding Out Extra Men.

W. H. Stevenson, Fourteenth ward, introduced an ordinance repealing a section of an ordinance permitting the director of public safety to employ 50 additional men. The repealing clause takes away from the director the authority to assign the men as he sees fit. Mr. Stevenson said that the director was using nine of these men as bookkeepers, clerks and the like, and that their monthly salaries aggregate $700. He introduced other ordinances, as follows: Prohibiting the use of firearms in the city, with a maximum penalty of $100; prohibiting the storing, selling or exploding of dynamite crackers.

The garbage ordinance, authorizing the award of a contract for the collection and disposal of garbage, was read the second time and amended to prevent the burning of garbage within the city limits, the amendment being made by Mr. Stevenson. It then went over for printing.

Other Ordinances.

The following ordinances came from the committee on public works and were passed: Providing for sewers on Gould street, Larkins alley, Webster avenue, Woolslayer alley and Washington avenue; providing for the grading, paving and curbing of Reynolds street, Rosetta street, Wineb1ddie avenue, Woolslayer alley, Wightman street, Abbott street, Blair street, Colombo street, Carver street, Henry street, Irwin avenue, Washington avenue, Mansion street, Murtland street and Giga alley.

On motion of W. S. Woods, suggested by President Crawford, a vote of thanks was tendered Director J. Guy McCandless for providing councils with seats from which they could hear the president's address in Schenley park on July 4.

Jacob Seifel, Thirty-second ward, introduced an ordinance, repealing the ordinance ordering the condemnation of Bigham's woods, in the Thirty-second ward, for park purposes.

TURNERBUND COMING TO THIS CITY IN 1904

Next Turnerfest Will Be Held the Following Year and Indianapolis Can Have It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DAVENPORT, IA., July 7.—The second day of the national convention of the North American Turnerbund was marked by heated discussions. Three hours were spent on the question of admission of women to full membership. The proposition makes it optional with the societies to admit women and to receive them on passes from other societies. It was defeated by 183 4-5 votes, against 154 1-5. A two-thirds vote was necessary.

An important place was given in the proceedings today to the resolution urging the exemption of Turner property from taxation, the proposition being favored by many eastern delegates in whose states much turner society property is exempt. The main radical element from the west came in with a counter resolution, declaring for the taxation of all society and church property. The radicals carried the day, the resolution favoring the taxation of church property being adopted.

It was decided not to hold the next national turnerfest until 1905. The fest was offered to Indianapolis, which has until tomorrow to accept.

The bund adopted a resolution favoring free text-books. Pittsburgh secured the next business convention in 1904.

THE WEATHER.

Yesterday was another hot day, and the prediction is that there will be still another. There will probably be a thunderstorm before the day is over, but it will not be severe enough to clear up the atmosphere and bring the desired relief. It was hot yesterday all over the country, and the weather map showed but little rain. There really was nothing encouraging about the map yesterday for anybody but the farmer, and as he really needs the kind of weather we have been having for the past three days he ought to be pleased to look on the weather map of the United States.

RESIDENTS OF HILLTOPS ARE ON WARPATH

Chartiers Valley Water Company May Be Taken Into Courts.

FAMINE ON JULY FOURTH

Water Was Shut Off for Twenty-Four Hours—Hilltop Board of Trade Meets Tonight and Action Is Promised—Crafton Up in Arms.

The Chartiers Valley Water Company, which supplies the residents of the South Side hilltops, has, they assert, been failing to carry out its contracts, and as a result there is much indignation among its consumers. The trouble is not of recent date, but came to a climax on July 4, when the water supply of the entire system gave out. For a long time the water had been low in pressure, but without notice to the consumers it was suddenly shut off. The people say they have stood the poor service without complaint for a long time, but are now determined that the company shall carry out its contracts, as they propose to take the matter before the courts. The water, they allege, has been often turned off before, but not for so many hours at a time.

Inadequate machinery, defective boilers, and an antiquated supply system, they assert, are responsible for the service given by the company to its patrons in the boroughs of Mt. Oliver, Knoxville, and a portion of the Thirty-eighth ward. They say the company has been often notified of its failure to perform its contracts, but has always treated their complaints with contempt. They now propose to settle the whole matter.

Supply Shut Off.

On the afternoon of July 4 the entire water supply of Mt. Oliver, Knoxville and that portion of the Thirty-eighth ward, formerly known as Beltzhoover, gave out. The day was intensely warm, and the streets were filled with flying sparks from explosives, and burning firecrackers. The danger from fire was at once so apparent that a demand was made on the water company for relief. It was the same old story, that the engines in the pumping station had broken down and that the supply of water could not be turned on until the repairs were made. This answer was not satisfactory to the patrons, but there was nothing to be done at the time.

The day, instead of being one of pleasure to the residents of the hilltops, became one of constant fear. Fireworks were being exploded in every direction and the destruction of many houses was expected at any moment. On Mt. Oliver, a frame house was set on fire by sparks, which filled the air. A run of a half mile was made to a plug by the hose carriage, but no water was found there by the firemen. Had there not been a few wells in the place, and a brigade formed, the loss would have been very large.

Complaints Unheeded.

"We have made many complaints to the officials of the Chartiers Valley Water Company," said M. B. Layton, president of the Hilltop board of trade, "but they have never been taken notice of by the company. The service furnished has always been poor and the highest rates charged consumers. When the water supply was shut off in Knoxville, on July 4, I was told by an official of the company, that two boilers and one pump had broken down. Whether this was true or not, I don't know, but if it was, I think that new boilers and pumps should replace them as they have broken down on other occasions.

"This was not the first time that the company has shut off the water from its consumers, as a rule the company cuts off the water without notice to its patrons, and, as there is only one spring in my neighborhood and no wells, it is a great inconvenience. We are never notified to prepare for emergencies, but are left without a supply of water at the pleasure of the company. Another thing is, that when the water company does give us a supply it is, even under the most favorable conditions and at all seasons of the year, unfitted for human consumption.

Charge Against Councils.

"As the present members of the Knoxville council will not do anything for the relief of the people, for the reason that a majority of them are friendly to the Chartiers Water Company, as a community it will be necessary if we expect to get any relief for us to elect a new set of representatives.

"The board of trade complained bitterly a year ago over the treatment given the patrons of the water company. Many of the residents of Knoxville cannot use their bath tubs nor water their lawns owing to the scarcity of water, but they have to pay the regular rate the same as if they were getting the service. The water consumers on the hilltops, including a portion of the Thirty-eighth ward, are now paying 25 per cent more than those in the city."

Councilman Charles I. Moye of Mt. Oliver, who was seen yesterday said: "The Chartiers Valley Water Company simply does as it pleases and pays no attention to the complaints of its patrons. The shutting off the supply for nearly 24 hours on July 4 is said to have been caused by the machinery at the pumping plant breaking down.

"The question will be taken up at the next meeting of council in August. In the meantime the people will have to submit to present conditions unless we can get relief from the courts."

A Famine Incident.

A pathetic incident of the water famine in Mt. Oliver occurred on the evening of July 4. James Cready, a resident of Stamm avenue, who had been sick for several weeks, died. When the undertaker arrived to prepare the body for burial not a single drop of water could be gotten in the neighborhood. Some of the neighbors went to a well over a half mile distant and procured enough water to prepare the body for burial.

The Chartiers Valley Water Company also furnishes the water supply to the borough of Crafton, with the same efficiency that it does to the other boroughs that have contracted with it for a daily supply. The residents of that borough complain just as bitterly as do the water company's patrons in other boroughs. Without any notice the company cut off its water supply to its consumers in Crafton from 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon until 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

"Under the present condition of our water supply," said D. A. Fisher yesterday, "Crafton is at the mercy of fire at any time, beside an epidemic of sickness. Many of the houses are so constructed that water for sanitary purposes is needed at all times."

A meeting of the Hilltop board of trade will be held this evening, when the water question will be taken up. The committee, which had been appointed some time ago to take steps for relief, will make its report at this meeting. It will be decided what action shall be taken against the company.

Company's Statement.

Supt. W. J. Hunter of the Chartiers Valley Water Company said last night that the failure of the water supply was entirely unexpected to all officers of his company, as well as to the large community it supplies.

"The report that we simply turned off the water supply from our people is unfair in the extreme," said he. "We were unfortunate enough on Friday to have two boilers let go. They did not burst, understand, but tubes were burned through. This was followed by a valve-stem on one engine drawing out, and this was followed by our largest engine giving out, through the necessary high steam pressure for pumping exerted on it.

"The third engine has been disabled and was being repaired by the Wilson-Snyder Manufacturing Company, so we could not turn to it for power. There was no opportunity to notify our patrons, the burning out of the boiler tubes being followed so quickly by the breaking down of the engines that all we could do was to work to repair them. By 5 o'clock Saturday morning we had our big engine going again, but the time required to fill all pipes left some of our patrons without water for hours afterward. The pumping station is operating satisfactorily now."

THIRTEEN DEAD HEAT VICTIMS OF ONE DAY

township, was taken home unconscious and the attending physician said he did not think that he would live through the night. M. J. Hefty of Thirteenth avenue, Homestead, dropped in Eighth avenue, Homestead, yesterday. He was taken to his home in an unconscious condition, and but for the active work of two physicians would have died.

Victim of Heat and Car.

Felix Gallagher, 35 years of age of Brinton, may die as a result of the heat, and if he lives will never walk again. Gallagher was prostrated at his work in the Edgar Thomson mills, Braddock, and after resting a little while started to walk home. While getting out of the way of a street car he was knocked down and run over. He was badly crushed. The street car inspector had him sent to Mercy hospital.

Mrs. Caroline Espe, 70 years of age, died at her home, No. 225 Seventh avenue, Homestead, last night of the excessive heat. Mrs. Espe has lived 55 years in and about Homestead, and was widely known. Mrs. Espe was quite wealthy, and enjoyed distributing her money in her own way.

Alice Allen, 2-months-old daughter of John Allen, No. 46 North Highland avenue, Rankin, died because of the heat yesterday. Michael Sambo, 8-months-old son of John Sambo, No. 17 Tenth street, Braddock, died yesterday afternoon.

Gertrude Graham, who gave her home as No. 231 Collins avenue, was picked up at Smithfield street and Fourth avenue, early yesterday afternoon suffering from the heat. She was taken to the Homeopathic hospital, where the attending physician said that she would be all right within a few hours' rest, but that he thought it best for her to remain all night.

Girl Stricken Twice.

At 9 o'clock last night Miss Graham's condition was such that she was allowed to go home, as for some time she had been saying that she felt perfectly strong and was very desirous of going. At 10 o'clock she was picked up at Forbes and Marion streets unconscious and in convulsions. She was taken to Mercy hospital, but two squares away, and at midnight was said to be in a very serious condition. It is thought that the girl got off a car near where she was last found and had been on her way home.

Samuel Robatich, a laborer at Jones & Laughlins' Second avenue furnaces, was taken to the South Side hospital about 8 o'clock last night suffering from heat exhaustion. His condition is critical.

The Pittsburgh division of the Salvation Army will start its second year's work of relieving the suffering of the poor in an ice crusade next Monday. A year ago this work was a notable success in the matter of relief, taking to 400 or more homes each day blocks of ice of 10 pounds or so that were delivered at a penny a block or for nothing to the more needy.

Will Distribute Ice.

The matter is in charge of Edwin White, staff captain, with headquarters in Pittsburgh for the division of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Envoy John Zeall and others at the new headquarters of the army, room No. 1 of the Excelsior building, Sixth avenue and Grant street. Leaders of the army plan this year to obviate an important expense of their work in supplying ice to the poor by securing their own horses and wagons. Later the wagons will be available for the delivery of coal, of which much was given to the army last year for distribution to the poor, and for collecting clothing. Envoy Zeall said last night: "You have no idea what a good we accomplish in this distribution of ice. It reaches suffering, such as coal and clothes cannot reach in winter.

Excursion for Poor Children.

"I remember last year in Larkins alley in one court and at several of the little meager homes the bread winners and others were down with fever or otherwise afflicted and the little block of ice came as a great boon. We will not collect on the street for this work, but expect our friends to aid us at headquarters." On Wednesday the Pittsburgh division of the army will give an annual outing to poor children and their mothers, taking them to Camden park, up the Monongahela river, on the Mayflower, leaving at 8 o'clock in the morning from Wood street wharf and returning at 6 o'clock at night. The day will be spent in sports and leading business men have contributed prizes for the successful contestants.

On this outing it is expected to take 800 poor children and their mothers. They will be given a dinner with liberal portions of meats, cake, fruits, nuts and other good things. Funds are needed.

IT'S CHAMBERS' PLAN.

Expects Meeting of Window Glass Manufacturers at Cleveland to Result in Air-Tight Combine.

MUNCIE, IND., July 7.—The meeting of all window glass manufacturers to be held at Cleveland July 10 is believed to be in furtherance of the plan projected by James A. Chambers, president of the American company, to form an all-embracing quadruple alliance, consisting of the American, Federation and independent companies, together with all outside companies, the latter to be formed into a separate association or added to one of the other organizations.

With this plan perfected, the price of window glass all over the United States will be uniform and absolutely in the control of manufacturers who are not at war.

Gift to a Yale School.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 7.—A gift from Frederick W. Vanderbilt of New York to the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale university was announced today. Mr. Vanderbilt is a graduate of the school in the class of 1876. His gift is for the establishment of a dormitory system and includes an extensive and valuable tract of land. The value of the gift is about $500,000.

So Different in Colorado.

DENVER, COL., July 7.—Snow is still falling in Colorado. Ridgeway reports a heavy storm, while telegrams announce a fall of from 10 to 12 inches in the mountains surrounding the San Luis valley. All west of Salida is white with snow, and down at Telluride, in the extreme southwest, the country is buried under snow.

Don't Spend All.

Put something away for the rainy day that is certain to come sooner or later—and put it where it will be safe and earn more money every day—in the Pennsylvania Trust Company, for instance, where savings accounts earn 4 per cent interest, and a capital and surplus of $800,000 assures safety. 410 Smithfield street is its location.

PHILADELPHIA MAY BE REACHED BY THE WABASH

Scheme Suspected to Be Behind a New Railroad Corporation.

THE CONNECTION DENIED

Those Who Credit the Project Think the Design Is to Parallel the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to Quaker City.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

West Chester, Pa., July 7.—A railroad scheme in which the Wabash system is suspected to figure was brought to light in court here today, when the petition of the Philadelphia & Western Railroad Company, asking that its bonds be approved, was read and filed. The petition set forth that to build its road it is necessary to take a portion of the lands of H. Graham Rambo and J. Howard Humpton, near Coatesville, at a price which the owners think is inadequate.

Some believe this case is significant of a great scheme to build a new railroad line from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh as a rival of the Pennsylvania railroad. The articles of incorporation give as the route of the proposed railroad, from the western line of Philadelphia to Parkersburg, Chester county, about 45 miles, running through the counties of Delaware, Montgomery and Chester.

The capital stock of the company is $450,000, consisting of 9,000 shares of a par value of $50. The officers are: President, Millard F. Thomson, Carlisle; directors, Paul Wilhs, Lewis S. Sadler, Millard F. Thomson and Frank P. Benjamin, Carlisle; Thomas C. Benjamin W. T. Austin and H. Stevenson, Philadelphia.

Frank P. Benjamin, one of the directors, denied that the Philadelphia & Western has any connection with the Wabash.

One of the best-informed railroad men in the city, with whom a reporter talked tonight, was inclined to make light of the story that the new company has any connection with the Wabash, or indicates that that system is seeking to parallel the Pennsylvania from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia. He could not see, he said, what the value of such a line as that contemplated would be in connection with any comprehensive scheme for a trunk line.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR BAY STATE GAS

Bondholder Alleges That It Can Not Pay Interest and Future Holds Out No Hope.

TRENTON, N. J., July 7.—Judge Kirkpatrick of the United States circuit court today appointed George D. Hallock of Plainfield, N. J., receiver of the Bay State Gas Company of New Jersey.

This is the company that was organized by J. Edward Addicks and others for the purpose of controlling the Boston Gas Light Company, the Roxbury Gas Light Company, the South Boston Gas Light Company and the Bay State Gas Company of Boston. The application for a receiver was made by Frank L. Day & Co. of New York, who hold $160,000 worth of bonds of the syndicate. Day claims that the syndicate has defaulted in the payment of interest on the bonds; that it owes interest $278,987 and owes the Mercantile Trust Company $10,000.

It is charged that the syndicate permitted the four companies named to create a floating indebtedness of $333,000 and that the total liabilities of the Bay State Gas Company of New Jersey is upward of $9,000,000. The only security the New Jersey Company has is the stock it holds in the four companies named, and these, it is charged, have not paid any dividends for the past two years and with no prospect of doing so in the immediate future because of the gas war now in progress in Boston.

ARRANGED DETAILS.

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity Making Ready for Convention.

An important meeting of the committee of arrangements for the 40th session of the grand chapter of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity was held at the Hotel Henry last evening. At this meeting a large portion of the details of the convention were fixed. Although the delegates will not gather here until December 29, the committee has gone ahead with the preparations and is making ready to spend several thousand dollars for entertainment. R. P. Kennedy, Esq., of Uniontown will be the toastmaster at the banquet and several men of national fame are expected to be on hand to answer to the toasts.

The members of the committee of arrangements are Edward L. Stevenson, chairman, and the Rev. A. C. Diefenbach for the Pittsburgh alumni; A. C. Smith, W. A. Dearth and H. N. Malcolm for Washington and Jefferson, and Harry L. Moore, H. A. Gabler and J. G. Zevely for the University of West Virginia. The local alumni, with State college, Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia university are making the preparations. To meet the expenses of the convention a generous response is being made by the alumni members of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

YOUR PIANO?

Is It One of Which You Are Really Proud?

A piano should not be anything else, for more interest centers in a piano than in any other article in the equipment of the home. To own a trashy instrument is to appear at a disadvantage every time a guest of refinement calls.

Take a look at the splendid midsummer stock on view at Hamilton's. There you'll find the most magnificent instruments. First in point of all this is mentioned the A. B. Chase. It is simply and emphatically the purest toned and in every way the most desirable piano in the world today. It appeals to those who wish the best. Compared with the A. B. Chase, ordinary pianos are as insignificant as imitation diamonds are when compared with the genuine. The A. B. Chase is an art piano for artists—the refinement of tonal beauty.

It should be borne in mind, however, that there are no "ordinary" pianos at Hamilton's. All the instruments in this noteworthy stock are high-class. There is the J. & C. Fischer, for example—truly a masterpiece. The Fischer is noted for its brilliant vibrant quality. Its popularity is indicated by the fact that over 118,000 Fischer pianos are now in use.

There can be no doubt of the fact that the Schumann is infinitely the best medium-priced piano on the market. Its sweetly sympathetic tone quality has won for it a place in the affections of music lovers everywhere.

The Smith & Barnes and Hamilton pianos are also noted for their fine qualities, and like every other article in this stock, they are fully guaranteed. If you wish a really fine piano at a reasonable price, see those at Hamilton's, ranging from $200 upward. Write for catalogue if you cannot call.

SURVEYOR THINKS THEY WILL NOT JOIN

CONFIRMS MISGIVINGS ABOUT BUTLER-WESTMORELAND.

A Re-Survey of the Borough of Freeport May Be Required to Settle the Constitutionality of That New Congressional District.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 7.—The claim made that Westmoreland and Butler counties, forming a district under the new congressional apportionment, are not contiguous territory, as required by the state constitution, is sustained by ex-County Surveyor J. J. Neel, who is well informed on the boundary lines of the counties in Western Pennsylvania. It is his opinion that the Big Buffalo creek and a part of Freeport skirts the Westmoreland county point, thereby cutting Westmoreland entirely away from Butler.

Mr. Neel never has made an actual survey of the boundary lines of Butler, Armstrong and Allegheny, but from excellent maps in his possession, and his knowledge of the reports found in the office of the secretary of internal affairs, he is led to believe that the claim that the counties are not contiguous is correct. To settle the dispute, he thinks a survey of the borough of Freeport should be made.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 7.—(Special.)—The constitutional point raised by State Senator John C. Grady relative to the last congressional apportionment attracted much attention. It is the general opinion that the counties of Westmoreland and Butler are physically joined, although it is admitted that the contact is one of "corners," and not extensive. If this be true the constitutionality of the bill cannot be successfully attacked.

"The bill is all right," said Commissioner Durham today. "I remember the question was raised when it was under consideration, but it was shown that the counties touched at one point, and this 'touchdown'—you may call it that—disposed of the objections raised."

Gov. Stone says Grady's point is not worth attention.

7,300-MILE VOYAGE ON OIL FUEL ONLY

A Merchant Steamer Will Make the Experiment, but the Navy Will Be Represented.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—To observe the most thorough test of oil as naval fuel ever attempted, Lieut. Ward P. Winchell has been ordered detached from the Boston at San Francisco and will board the Oceanic Steamship Company's steamer Mariposa for a cruise to Tahiti, Society islands. The Mariposa will burn only oil during this trip, which will be 7,300 miles long.

The result of the experiment, in the opinion of naval officers here, will mean much to the future of engineering. Rear Admiral Melville, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, takes great interest in the experiment. He desires to make a similar one with a warship.

Ever since the navy department began experiments to ascertain the value of oil fuel as compared with coal the officers of the bureau of steam engineering, especially Lieutenant Commander John Edwards, who has the experiments in charge, have been flooded with letters of inquiry from shipowners on the Pacific coast, where oil is so much cheaper than coal as to make it a far more desirable fuel. The fitting out of the Mariposa shows the interest shipowners on the Pacific coast take in the problem of oil fuel.

The naval aspect of the problem is somewhat harder of solution than the merchant marine, on account of the difficulty in finding space for the auxiliaries required in operating the oil fuel plant. The question of weight also must be given consideration.

The Mariposa's plant consists of an automatic feeder, from which the oil streams into the firebox, where fire bricks are loosely piled in the place of the ordinary grating. As the oil streams downward it is struck by a spray, either of compressed air or steam, and distributed over the fire bricks and throughout the firebox. After a certain amount of combustion the bricks become incandescent.

LEISHMANS SEE SULTAN.

United States Minister and Family Dine With Ruler of Turkey.

Daughters Are Decorated.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7.—John G. A. Leishman, United States minister to Turkey, Mrs. Leishman and their two daughters; Spencer Eddy, secretary of the legation, and A. A. Gargiulo, interpreter to the United States legation, dined at the Yildiz palace yesterday and were subsequently received in audience by the sultan. The visitors attended an operatic performance at the palace.

The sultan presented Mr. Leishman with a souvenir of the visit; to Mrs. Leishman he gave the grand cordon of the Order of Nichan-I-Chefakat, and to the minister's daughters he presented the decorations of the second and third class of the same order.

NEW ANTI-BOND SUIT.

This Time J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. Are Made Party Defendants.

TRENTON, N. J., July 7.—A new suit against the United States Steel Corporation has been instituted in the court of chancery to restrain the conversion of preferred stock of the corporation into bonds. A rule to show cause was granted by Vice Chancellor Emery at Newark, returnable before him in the same city on July 15. A temporary order also was granted restraining the conversion of the preferred stock into bonds.

This suit was brought by the same counsel that represented Mrs. Miriam Berger in the suit now waiting decision in the court of errors. The new feature of this suit is that J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. are made party defendants. All of the directors of the United States Steel Corporation also are named as defendants. The suit is brought by Franklin W. Hopkins and Allison R. Hopkins, trading as Hopkins Bros.; J. Aspinwall Hodge, Bernard Smith and William H. Curtiss.

STANDARD STILL BELIEVED TO BE IN PACKING DEAL

Denial of Meat Concern Taken With Grain of Salt by Financiers.

SWIFT STOCK IS GOING UP

That Company's Absorption of the Anglo-American Business Only One Step in the Big Consolidation Program.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE]

Chicago, July 7.—La Salle street financiers, stock brokers and bugers of stock apparently are taking a big grain of salt with the statement by interested packers that the Standard Oil Company is in no way interested in a deal for the expansion of the packers' enterprises, nor in a consolidation of the "Big Six" into one concern, something like the Northern Securities Company.

The stock of Swift & Co. is going up with rapid strides. Hardly three weeks ago it was quoted in the local market at 110. That was before the semi-official announcement that the Swifts had purchased the Anglo-American Company. After the report was authenticated the market value of the stock began to advance on the slightest provocation.

The recent purchase of the Anglo-American Company was only another step in the expansive policy of the Swifts. The purchase of this important concern means that before long the Swifts will be issuing new stock, probably as much as $10,000,000, increasing its capital stock from $25,000,000 to $35,000,000. According to the usual practice, two shares of this new stock would be offered to the present stockholders for every five shares they now hold, so that they could maintain their relative financial standing in the enlarged business, but whether this practice will be followed out, or new blood with plenty of millions to give it tone will be invested, is a matter for the future to decide. One man who has been more or less familiar with the packing industry for years, in its financial phase, said:

"I can see how the stockholders, at least some of them, might be willing to forego the usual privilege extended to them of buying the stock in exchange for the financial prestige and added power in the business world that would come from having the countless millions of the Standard Oil magnates as backing. The fact is, many believe that the advancement of the Swifts since early in the nineties, or since the panic of 1893, is largely due to new financial strength infused into the company by Standard Oil or allied interests. The recent reaching out for more plants seems to be the logical sequence of the prosperity that has gone before, and Standard Oil money has a way of being associated with things that pay well."

TELEGRAPH TRANSFER.

Postal Company Takes Possession of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Business Without a Hitch.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Special.)—Three thousand telegraph operators left the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company this morning, and at the same moment entered the employ of the Postal Telegraph Company. The change was substantially an involuntary one, due to the transfer to the Postal company of all the telegraph business heretofore transacted by the Western Union Telegraph Company on the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburgh and Erie. William H. Baker, vice president of the Postal Telegraph Company, in announcing the fulfillment of the contract, said: "The change was made without hitch and everything is now working satisfactorily. At some of the stations the Western Union Company will retain offices until the expiration of the leases therefor, which run from 30 to 60 days."

The work of connecting the Postal Telegraph Company's system with the wires on the Pennsylvania railroad lines was begun on Friday, but the actual connection was made very early this morning in a few hours. The chief connections were made in Jersey City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and this city.

KING EDWARD VII. IS TO BE CROWNED IN AUGUST.

Street Pageant and Ceremonies at Westminster Abbey Are to Be Curtailed. His Majesty Is Improving and Complete Recovery Is Expected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 7.—King Edward will be crowned between August 11 and August 15. His recovery has been so rapid and satisfactory that this decision was arrived at today. No official announcement of the fact has yet been made.

The pageant through the streets and the ceremony at Westminster abbey will be much curtailed from the original plan. Their majesties will drive from Buckingham palace to the abbey through the Mall to Whitehall and thence to the abbey, the same route as taken at the opening of parliament.

King Edward passed a favorable day and the verbal report given out tonight was that his majesty is still doing well.

The use by the prince of Wales of the word "recovery" when he referred to the king's progress at the inauguration of the Raphael Nurses' home of Guys hospital this afternoon, is regarded in many quarters as indicating that the royal family considers the king's case most hopefully.

MUGSY M'GRAW WILL MANAGE THE GIANTS

He Has a Two Years' Contract at Ten Thousand Dollars Per Year.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, July 7.—John J. McGraw has signed as manager of the New York baseball team and left late tonight for New York to assume the management tomorrow afternoon. The owners of the Baltimore baseball club are meeting tonight at the Northampton hotel, but McGraw has already secured their consent to the move. President Freedman gives McGraw $10,000 a year salary and pays a like sum to satisfy the claims of the owners of the Baltimore club. Whether other players of the Baltimore club will join McGraw at New York is not now apparent, McGraw disclaiming such intentions. At the meeting of the owners now in session here Robinson and Kelly were elected joint managers, and McGraw's stock in the club was offered for sale.

In securing McGraw Freedman was backed by all the other clubs of the National league. McGraw charges that President Johnson of the American league has been trying to wreck Baltimore as a baseball city, and Johnson and the players of the Baltimore club have had much friction, as a result of which McGraw and the players got the worst of it. This has caused much dissatisfaction and opened the way for Freedman to secure McGraw. As a part of the arrangement Freedman is to immediately take a trip to Europe, leaving McGraw absolutely in charge of the New York team with unlimited means to strengthen it, and Freedman is to have no say in the management of the players.

ANNUAL MEETING OPENS

First General Session of the Association to Convene at Minneapolis Today—Indian Teachers Discuss Their Branch of the Work.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Minneapolis, Minn., July 7.—While large numbers of the educators of the country are already in Minneapolis, the majority of the visitors are still to come.

Three meetings of the national council and two of the department of Indian education were held today. The first general session of the association will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The national council will complete its work tomorrow morning, when D. E. McClure of Lansing, Mich., John Dewey of the University of Chicago and Miss Anna T. Smith of the United States bureau of education will speak.

A meeting of the Indian department tomorrow and another general session in the evening will be all that will occur before Wednesday, when the real work of the convention will begin.

The national council is the inner circle of the association and election to it is esteemed a high honor. Its membership is limited, and runs for life. The session was held in the Unitarian church and after a few preliminaries Nathan C. Schaeffer of Harrisburg, state superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania, read a paper on "Taxation As It Relates to School Maintenance."

He declared that as taxation for school purposes is now the accepted policy of every civilized country, its nature and purpose should be taught in connection with history and civil government.

"One of the highest tests of patriotism is found in a willingness to pay a just share of the tax for the education of the people," said Mr. Schaeffer.

He held that the best method of state taxation for school purposes consists in setting apart a millage of a tax which cannot be diverted to other purposes. Taxation of railroads and other property to raise a fund for distribution among school districts serves to aid the schools of townships that have no railroads or other valuable corporate property. Those in control of the schools should have the power to a fixed limit to specify the amount to be raised.

The second paper of the morning was by Albert G. Lane, district superintendent of schools, Chicago, on "Taxation and Teachers' Salaries."

"The reports of county and state superintendents," he said, "show that if effective instruction is to be imparted to all children, more generous provision must be made for the ample compensation of teachers, for permanency in their work and for centralized schools in the rural districts."

Supt. C. B. Gilbert of Rochester, N. Y., read a paper at the afternoon session on "The Function of Knowledge in Education." The other afternoon paper was by William T. Harris, United States commissioner of education, on "The Differences Between Efficient Causes and Final Causes in Controlling Human Freedom."

The morning session of the Indian educational section at Plymouth church was given up to greetings. In the afternoon President McCowan read his annual address, and a large number of papers were read by Indian educators.

CLERK IS SHOT FROM AMBUSH

ESCAPED WITH BAD WOUND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 7.—Fifty miles south of here, on Barkers Creek, in Wyoming county, a probably successful effort was made this morning to assassinate Thomas Cook, son of Senator William Cook of Wyoming county.

Cook, who is employed in that territory as bookkeeper by a Cincinnati lumber concern, was riding to the timber camps on horseback when several shots rang out from nearby woodlands. He reeled in his saddle when a bullet penetrated his breast, but throwing his arms around the animal's neck he put spurs to the steed and dashed probably half a mile before he fell from the horse's back, near a farmer's home and was taken in.

Cook generally carries the money to pay the hundreds of laborers in the camps and was probably shot by a robber. The bullet came out near the shoulder blade, but there is little hope for his recovery. The community is thoroughly aroused and 20 or more men are searching for the would-be assassin.

BUFFALO BILL CALMS COWBOYS

Wild West Performers Start a Riot at New Castle.

TWO POLICEMEN ASSAULTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 7.—Buffalo Bill's wild west cowboys nearly caused a riot and bloodshed here before the show left for Cleveland. They attempted to open "rough house" in a barroom near the show grounds and announced a "free beer" policy. Policemen Joseph Beard and Hugh Shields were sent for and were brutally assaulted.

Beard was badly injured by being struck in the mouth by a brick. He drew his gun and backed against the wall, while Shields followed suit. When their weapons appeared nearly every cowboy in the crowd also drew a revolver.

"Buffalo Bill" heard of the disturbance his followers were creating, and hurried to the scene in much the same manner that he rides to the rescue of the Deadwood stage coach during the performance. "Buffalo Bill's" presence instantly calmed the cowboys, who dispersed without further trouble. No arrests were made.

Many Prominent State Workers Arrived in the City Yesterday—Conference of State Officers Will Be Held This Afternoon.

Hundreds of the delegates to the fifteenth biennial convention of the Pennsylvania State Christian Endeavor societies arrived yesterday. Those who came earlier in the day went to the quarters engaged for them and attended the sacred concert in the evening. The convention will begin today, and it is expected that by noon nearly all the delegates will be on hand.

"Tent Endeavor," the big canvas tent in which the sessions of the convention will be held, was dedicated last night with a sacred concert. The tent will seat nearly 10,000 persons, and fully 7,000 were present last night. The concert was given by several soloists, the Pittsburgh orchestra club and a choir of 600 voices. J. P. McCollum was the conductor. There were 17 numbers on the program. The soloists were Mrs. Carrie Angell Baker, Miss Christine Miller and Mrs. Emma Porter Markinson. Charles N. Boyd was the accompanist.

300,000 Represented.

The tent is on the Schenley property behind the Bellefield public school, and the entrance is through the schoolhouse yard. Admission was charged to the concert last night, and several thousand dollars were realized. The money will be used to help defray the expenses of the convention.

The Christian Endeavor societies of Pennsylvania, represented by delegates at the convention, number more than 300,000, Allegheny county alone having 17,000 members. Preparations for the convention have been going on for weeks, the numerous committees in charge having worked faithfully. If the tent should not be large enough to hold all the delegates and other participants overflow meetings will be held in the Bellefield Presbyterian and Oakland Methodist churches.

The Rev. W. N. Yates, pastor of the First Church of God, Philadelphia, will preside over the general meetings. Prominent among the speakers and workers will be the Rev. L. W. Hainer of Norristown, J. F. Cowan, editor of the Christian Endeavor World, Dr. F. T. Tagg of Baltimore, Dr. Wayland Hoyt of Philadelphia, D. D. Lowry of Harrisburg, the Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart of Auburn Theological seminary and the Rev. William W. Williamson of Altoona.

Bomberger of Cleveland, O., will preach on "The Kingdom and This Convention," and the Rev. Mr. Yates on "The Kingdom and My Heart." The standing committees of the convention will be announced and the session will adjourn.

he'd have used stronger language. The fact is Arons' Vol-ta-ic diamonds can't be imitated. The Vol-ta-ic diamond and the genuine diamond are as like as two peas in every way. They have the same lasting beauty, brilliancy and fire. Experts can't tell them apart.

THE PRESIDENT WILL BE BACKED BY YOUNG PARTY

The People Counted on to Make Their Mandate Felt This Fall.

SMALL FACTIONS DOOMED

Old Leaders Must Give Way to the More Progressive Element, Who See the Demands of the Times. No Second Reciprocity Hiatus.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 603 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.

A Roosevelt party in congress, backed up by and representative of public sentiment. That, according to authorities in congressional circles, is to be the outcome of the existing situation in congress and of the president's campaign this fall and summer, if present plans do not fail. It will mean, they say, that the mandates of the Republican party must be heeded even when in conflict with the interests of small factions.

They declare that President Roosevelt believes he knows the sentiment of his party. He recently had an object lesson of the power of the old leaders to defeat the will of the party. In the next congress he hopes popular sentiment will have been so unmistakably pronounced upon several issues that recalcitrant congressmen will fall into line.

According to these authorities, President Roosevelt was eager to make the fight for the administration's recommendations during the close of the last congress. He was annoyed, for one thing, at the defeat of reciprocity in the senate. But his friends in congress restrained him from making the fight at that time.

"Get the public back of you," they said, "and then go in and clean out the other fellows."

The younger element of the Republican party in congress is clamoring for a change of leaders to represent the changing political issues as they find them in their districts. President Roosevelt said to one of them recently:

"Let's take away the 1 per cent of truth in the statement that the Republicans foster trusts."

But they know it is a hard thing to move the "conservative interests" from their foundation of strength in the old leaders of the house and senate. A new faction, they say, must come to the front and take hold, a hold which they can only get through a great popular outburst. They think the outburst will come this fall. The president in his campaign is to arouse the sentiment of the public upon the subjects he has nearest at heart. He will then be able to gather about him in congress men who stand with him on these subjects.

With public sentiment back of him, the Roosevelt party in congress, it is declared, will secure the legislation which the people want, and the victory will come just before the presidential campaign, according to their calculations.

GLASS INDUSTRY GROWING.

Census Bureau Notes Effect of Opening Gas Territory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—A bulletin was issued today by the census bureau showing the extent of the glass-making industry of the United States for the census year 1900. The bulletin shows that there are 355 glassmaking establishments employing a capital of $61,423,903. The value of the products is $56,589,172, to produce which involved an outlay of $2,702,376 for salaries; $27,084,710 for wages; $3,588,641 for miscellaneous expenses, including rent and taxes, and $16,781,009 for materials used, mill supplies, freight and fuel. Chief Statistician North of the census office says:

"The statistics seem to show a satisfactory rate of growth in the several branches of the industry, notwithstanding the fact that in nearly all lines the domestic manufacturers have been compelled to meet vigorous foreign competition. The development of the industry has been marked by a noteworthy increase in the use of tank furnaces and mechanical processes in lieu of hand work, which have resulted in an increased output combined with greater economy of operation. The distribution of the factories has depended to a considerable extent upon the supply of natural gas, the discovery of new fields being marked by an influx of glass factories from other localities having less favorable advantages in respect to fuel."

APPOINTMENT IS NOT WELL RECEIVED

OLD EMPLOYES OF POLICE DEPARTMENT ARE VERY WROTH.

They Allege That Inspector Lenox Is Over the Age Limit and Has Not Complied With Civil Service Regulations of the Bureau.

The appointment of John Lenox as police inspector is not being received with favor in the Pittsburgh force. There was a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed yesterday among men who had served in the police ranks for the last 15 to 20 years. They claim that the appointment was not made in accordance with the civil service regulations of the police and fire bureaus.

Inspector Lenox in the first place is over the age limit for admission to the police bureau. The maximum age for admission is 35 and Lenox is almost 53 years old. In addition to this he has never served a day on the police force, and has no experience. These are the conditions that provoke the policemen, who had served long in the ranks for advancement.

Inspector Lenox was not required to pass a civil service examination. This is another violation of the police rules. Every applicant for a position in the police bureau, with the exception of the superintendent and assistant superintendent, is required to pass a mental and physical examination. There was general doubt expressed yesterday in the force that Inspector Lenox would be able to pass either.

Because he was afraid of his own word of mouth Director Leslie remained reticent yesterday, when asked whether he would remove the detectives as reported. He would neither deny nor affirm his intention to remove them or retain them in service.

Director Leslie has been using his power to further his own political advancement, rather than comply with the rulings of the civil service laws. This has been a well-known fact for sometime. He has been waving the whip over his head for sometime. During the recent municipal elections he approached several members of the detective bureau and ordered them to bring certain relatives of theirs in line, or they would have to undergo the consequences. These relations were allied with the Citizens' party.

Upon receiving negative replies at that time Director Leslie has neither spoken to these detectives nor in fact taken any notice of them since. On every occasion he has manifested his hostility to them. These men have put in long years of hard service for the city and think they should receive some consideration.

Former Inspector Henry Whitehouse was seen yesterday and refused to discuss his relations with the police department at this time. He did say, however, that he was not working, and had no idea when he would be taken on the payroll again.

SENATOR QUAY TO CONFER WITH BIGELOW TODAY

Arrangements Completed for Meeting at Allegheny National Bank.

THE CHIEF IS INDISPOSED

Excessive Heat Has Had a Telling Effect on Him and He Was Forced to Remain at His Beaver Home Yesterday.

United States Senator Matthew Stanley Quay has made another engagement to meet Thomas S. Bigelow at the Allegheny National bank at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the two will talk over the outlook for the state and county campaigns.

Senator Quay's plans, as given out at a late hour last night, were to come to the city this morning. He will be at the Duquesne hotel and expects to meet a number of local politicians before luncheon.

The senator expects to spend all afternoon at the bank. After his morning conferences he will go directly to the financial institution from his hotel and may meet a few other politicians there besides Mr. Bigelow.

Mr. Bigelow had an appointment with Senator Quay at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, but the Beaver statesman was detained at his home, being indisposed.

The exceeding warm weather of the past three days has had a telling effect on the great political leader, and he has been advised by his physician to remain at his home and be as quiet as possible.

Shortly after noon yesterday, Mr. Bigelow received a message from Senator Quay, telling him of his inability to be in Pittsburgh on account of being slightly ill, and asked Mr. Bigelow to either come to Beaver today or meet him at the Allegheny National bank this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Bigelow stated last night that he did not believe he would go to Beaver, but that he had informed Senator Quay by wire that he would keep the appointment with him in Pittsburgh this afternoon.

Just what the nature of the conference today will be Mr. Bigelow refused to state last night. He said, however, that they would discuss the outlook for the coming campaign in both state and county, but refused to say what effect the conference would have on the Citizens movement in Allegheny county.

Local politicians generally are very anxious as to the result of the conference between Senator Quay and Mr. Bigelow. It was discussed on all sides yesterday and the greatest speculation is rife as to what the outcome of the meeting will be.

Many assert it will have no bearing or effect on the Citizens movement, while others say that the whole tete-a-tete will be along these lines.

The result of the meeting of the Fayette and Greene county Republicans in Pittsburgh yesterday was not announced last night. The members of the conference, ex-State Senator Daniel S. Walton of Greene county and John Byrne and J. F. Cooper of Fayette, denied that their presence in the city had any political significance whatever.

The conference was supposed to have been held to discuss the best method of settling the dispute concerning the selection of a candidate for congress in the Greene, Fayette and Somerset county district. The politicians dropped into the Duquesne during the morning to see Senator Quay and were not a little disappointed at not finding him.

ALLEGED DOCTOR GIVES BAIL.

Man Who Practiced on a Pittsburgher, Now Dead, to Be Tried.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—(Special.)—John A. A charge of practicing medicine without a license has been filed against Taff, and it is probable that when he appears in court tomorrow he will ask to be tried by jury.

WESTERN UNION PUTS $1,000,000 IN NEW LINES

Driven from Pennsylvania Railroad Rights of Way, It Builds Anew.

PIKE RIGHTS UTILIZED

It Is Asserted That None of Its Paying Offices Will Be Given Up and New Trunk Lines Are Already in Use and Under Construction.

The Western Union Telegraph Company is expending an aggregate of nearly $1,000,000 in the construction of new copper wires, forming new trunk lines which link Chicago and Cincinnati through Pittsburgh with Philadelphia and New York and other important cities in the east. What the Western Union is losing in wires along the rights of way of the Pennsylvania railroad it will make up along its several pike roads rights of way. Much of the work of substitution is already under way. The wire is being delivered by Roebling Bros.

Superintendent J. D. Flynn of the Pittsburgh district for the Western Union Telegraph Company said yesterday that the shift of the rights of way along the Pennsylvania railroad from the Western Union to the Postal is not a great loss.

Flynn Denies Loss.

"There will be no heavy loss of revenue to the Western Union," he said. "The Western Union company is now doing a vast amount of improvement work in stringing new copper wires along the highway rights, which it has held for years. I do not know that this is being done in anticipation of our relinquishing our rights of way along the Pennsylvania railroad. I doubt that it is. The improvements were authorized months ago, and work started, long before we had an inkling of the deal for the Postal to work over the Pennsylvania railroad rights of way.

"While all this talk is going on, you don't hear anything from the Western Union, that it is being injured. It is the Postal people who are doing the talking. They speak of the change as a great advantage to them."

The Western Union has about completed a new system of four copper wires between Chicago and Pittsburgh and another between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. East of Pittsburgh four of the copper wires are being carried over the pike right of way, via Greensburg, Ligonier, Stoyestown, Bedford and Harrisburg, and on to New York.

Work Going On.

This, in addition to other pike lines which the Western Union now has in Harrisburg, will equip it for handling the heavy business at the state capital during the next session of the general assembly.

The Western Union is building another new system of six copper wires over the highway, by the way of Somerset and connecting with New York. Into Pittsburgh, Superintendent Flynn remarked yesterday, the company has at least a half dozen pike rights of way. A new four-wire system is also being completed between Wheeling and Cumberland.

Within his territory on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad Superintendent Flynn said yesterday that the uptown offices at Johnstown, Altoona, Greensburg, Irwin, Latrobe, East Pittsburgh, Braddock and Wilkinsburg will be maintained. Although having pike line connections with Cresson, Portage, Gallitzin, South Fork and other points along the Pittsburgh end of the Pennsylvania main line, it is uncertain that these offices will be maintained, it being a question with officials as to their being profitable.

Along the Pennsylvania railroad right of way the Western Union now has 15 wires to Johnstown and 14 on to Altoona. Only two of these are copper, the rest being old iron wires, and the company has planned to substitute all iron wires with copper. The work of stringing four new copper wires on the Western Union pike line between here and Bedford has been under way since early spring and before the strike of the Pittsburgh district linemen. Along the Philadelphia pike the Western Union has 14 wires and will add four in the work now under way.

Superintendent Edson Kimmey of the Pittsburgh district for the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, said yesterday that through the transfer of the Pennsylvania railroad right of way from the Western Union to the Postal the Postal service is now in at 140 offices in his district, east on the main line to Altoona, north to the New York state line and south to Cumberland. "We are now open for business at all the stations of the Pennsylvania railroad, in the principal towns, probably about 25," said Mr. Kimmey.

"For the present the only change at the railroad stations will be in the substitution of our blanks and signs for those of the Western Union. The employes will not be affected, at least for the present. Wherever the men who have done the Western Union work are satisfactory they will be retained. Through the change we will gradually take up all the offices with the Pennsylvania railroad that it has maintained jointly with the Western Union.

Balmy Breezes of Old Neptune Are Ever Refreshing.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will run their second seashore excursion Thursday, July 10th. Leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8.55 a. m., with through parlor cars and day coaches to Atlantic City, without change, via Delaware river bridge. Through sleeping cars also attached to train leaving Pittsburgh at 7:10 p. m., 9 p. m. to Philadelphia only.

Rate, $10; tickets good for 16 days, and available for 10 days' stop-over at Philadelphia on depositing tickets with agent at Broad street station.

Pennsy Breaks Local Speed Records

ST. LOUIS MAIL RUNS OVER MILE A MINUTE

Gallitzin to Pitcairn, 90 Miles, Passed in 86 Minutes—96 Miles an Hour at Times.

What is claimed by the trainmen of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad to have been the fastest run ever made on that part of the system was made yesterday by the St. Louis mail, a light train due here at 12:20 p. m. The time of the run for the whole division, from Altoona to Pittsburgh, a distance of 117 miles, was 125 minutes, or almost a mile a minute, while the run from Gallitzin to Pitcairn, 90.8 miles, was made in 86 minutes. From Gallitzin to Wilkinsburg, 99.3 miles, the run was made in even 92 minutes. The bursts of speed at points along the run were also remarkable. There is no doubt that some of the miles were reeled off at the dizzy pace of 45 seconds or even faster. It is certain that no such run would have been attempted with a train full of passengers save under unusual circumstances, and only the urgency of making up for lost time caused the run of yesterday.

When this train, No. 11, was received on the Pittsburgh division at Altoona, a freight train delayed it 18 minutes more, so that the train had 32 minutes to make up to reach Pittsburgh on time. This was made up to the second. It is scheduled to make the run in two hours and 37 minutes. It made the run in two hours and five minutes.

Engineer T. W. Masterson was at the throttle of engine No. 2,016 of the new E-2 type, which have given so good an account of themselves for the Pennsylvania. The throttle was pulled wide open when the train had passed the cause of its delay. The train carried but three cars, and it fairly flew down the mountain from Cresson. As it was, the time was fully made up but it is certain that several more minutes could have been clipped off of this record if it had been necessary.

These extraordinarily fast runs all have their value to the railroad, especially at this time when preparations are going forward to cut down still farther the schedules of the 20-hour trains between New York and Chicago. They show the officials at how much strain and danger such fast runs can be made, and prepare for the use of the passenger trains later, at the same speed.

The New York Central's record trip, with the Twentieth Century Limited, a week ago, in which 148 miles were run in 145 minutes, also had some especially interesting features. One of the miles was made in 35 seconds, which means a rate of about 103 miles an hour. A photograph of the train was made in that mile.

JOHN SEBASTIAN,
Just Made Passenger Traffic Manager of the Rock Island Route.

Promotion of John Sebastian.

The promotion of John Sebastian, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, to the newly created position of passenger traffic manager, has been heard with much pleasure the country over. The appointment took effect late in June. Mr. Sebastian has risen from the ranks in the passenger department. He began as clerk in the general offices of the Santa Fe in 1869. He remained with that road until 1880, rising by successive stages to to position of chief clerk in the general passenger department and traveling passenger agent. He went in 1880 with the Rock Island as general southwestern passenger agent. In 1887 he was made general passenger agent of the Chicago, Kansas & Nebraska division. Of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific proper he was made general passenger and ticket agent in April, 1889. This position he now resigns.

Mt. Washington Tunnel Grows.

The progress on the Mt. Washington tunnel of the Wabash now being made is noteworthy. From the south end of the big tunnel over 400 feet of advance has been made, and the shaft being sunk from the center, as in the case of the Greenlee tunnel of the same road, is down now 40 feet, and sinking several feet a day. Late this week, or early next, the actual work of excavating from the north end of the tunnel will be started. The work is difficult to get at on account of the tracks of the Panhandle and the Lake Erie being in the way, but an arrangement has been made by the engineers, by which it is planned to go ahead without causing any trouble whatever.

Standard's Plant Building Fast.

The big main car shop of the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler is now half completed, according to G. H. Goodell, assistant to the president of the company. Work has been rushed on this great building at a speed never before seen in this section, and a similar rapidity of construction is witnessed in the work on the other buildings, which will make up the new plant. The foundations of all are now in, the structural material is coming by train loads from the Edgar Thomson works at Braddock and hundreds of workmen are putting together the frame. Mr. Goodell said yesterday that all indications now point to the company being able to turn out by September 1 its complete steel cars of the new types it has originated.

RAILROAD NOTES.

General Superintendent L. G. Haas of the Baltimore & Ohio in this city, spent yesterday on the Newark division, superintending the repair work at the wash-outs.

The meeting of the Central Passenger association at Cambridge Springs, opening tomorrow, is expected to be attended by practically every member of the association.

The immigrant pool of the western lines seems to have been broken very seriously, and without much hope of repair. The seceders insist that they will not return. If this proves so, it will mean a sharp fight for the business.

READING AND WABASH ALLIANCE PROBABLE

Means Use at Last of the Beech Creek Route from Here to New York—Basis of Belief.

The present activity in Reading stock has again brought forth a report of an alliance of the Wabash with that system for a route to New York. The use of the Beech Creek and the Falls Brook line is part of the plan. It needs but a very short link to connect the Wabash at Pittsburgh with the western terminus of the Beech Creek; likewise the link to connect the Reading with the eastern terminus of that line, whereupon a new through route from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and New York, through Central Pennsylvania is constructed.

It should be remembered that the Reading interests are also strong in the Western Union, and if a general quarrel comes out of the Pennsylvania's attack on the Western Union, an alliance of the various interests in that telegraph system can work much detriment to the great railroad system.

The Wabash is peculiarly in a position now to offer to the Reading some compensation for an alliance of the kind. The purchase of the Western Maryland by the Wabash was made only after the strongest kind of competition of a bona fide kind from the Reading interests. Those close to the fight know that the Reading eagerly desires to secure another seaboard outlet for its anthracite coal, and in return for rights over the Western Maryland will give much.

One of the attorneys for the Reading in the Baltimore fight made this significant statement at that time: "Mark my words, if the Wabash is now given the Western Maryland it will be only a short time until the Reading enters Baltimore any way over that route, for it is the natural connection."

Gould interests have been shown to have a hand in the recent heavy purchases of Reading stock. They have something of much value to offer that system in exchange for trackage rights to New York, and the Reading and the Pennsylvania are natural enemies. Hence the belief that a Reading-Gould alliance is now probable.

Cook was sent to the Homeopathic hospital, after which he went to his home at No. 3 Sweetbrier street, Duquesne Heights. The fire at the store was put out by a line from the chemical engine.

Crucible Strikers Give Up—The men of the melting departments of the Black Diamond and the Crescent works of the Crucible Steel Company of America returned to work yesterday after several weeks of a disorganized strike. She did not learn of his whereabouts until a short time ago.

Stole a Hilltop Car—Hugh Comberry was fined $25 yesterday for running away with a street car. That he was not held for court for killing somebody was not Comberry's fault. Comberry had been drinking and was at the reckless, good-natured stage. It was a hill-top car he took. The motorman had left it near the barn when Comberry took possession. He ran the car nearly to the head of the Mt. Oliver incline, and then started back toward the barn. On a curve he so manipulated the controller that he burned out a fuse, which "killed" it as far as he was concerned.

"IL TROVATORE" SUNG AT DUQUESNE GARDEN

Under Cooling Breezes the Music of Verdi's Fine Old Opera Greatly Enjoyed.

Whetle there may be two opinions as to the wisdom of the Duquesne Garden management in giving so heavy grand opera, when weather conditions seem to call for music of a more diaphonous character, there is no question but that the selections of the more pretentious works are made with the reference to popular tastes. There is nothing as popular among music lovers as Verdi's imposing, if somewhat sombre, "Il Trovatore," and its presentation last night by the Stock Opera Company served to bring out most of its familiar beauties.

Of the principals in the cast, Miss Mason's Leonora is quite the most excellent. Miss Mason's thorough familiarity with the part enables her to give special attention to the delicate music shadings which are so much a feature of Verdi's music. From the opening solo in the first act until the last notes of the tragic story Miss Mason's voice never failed to produce the beautiful effects for which the role is so famous. The Miserere was finely rendered, but the honors, even in this well-known scene, belonged to Miss Mason rather than to Mr. Persse, though that gentleman sang the music of Manrico with expression. Miss Elsie Bishop as Azucena was another surprisingly excellent feature of the performance. Miss Bishop lacked at times dramatic intensity and failed to bring out the best expression on this side of the work, but her voice was clear and strong and her work gives promise of unusual excellence. Miss Marie Stone was a fairly good Inez, though grand opera is still somewhat beyond her reach. The Count De Luna of Mr. Pigott was dramatically adequate but his voice seemed to lack the requisite force.

The chorus and settings were thoroughly adequate, and the entire production ran smoothly, evidencing to music lovers in whose behalf the more serious operas are given, that the company is equal to work of this kind from the standpoint of companies of like caliber. In the Palm garden the Dillon Brothers made merry. The Palm Garden orchestra is enjoying the leadership of Mr. William A. Staley, a member of Victor Herbert's orchestra.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Explosion of Gas Almost Wrecked a Residence at Butler.

BUTLER, PA., July 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Carrie Grieb, wife of John B. Grieb of this place, died this morning from burns received six hours previously by an explosion of natural gas.

Mrs. Grieb had been living with the family of Amos Steelsmith, on Turd street, and this morning noticed that there was gas escaping in the house. She went to ascertain the cause, and on the first floor of the house opened the door out of the hall into the dining-room. Immediately there was a rush of gas, which ignited from a burning gas jet in the hall, causing an explosion that blew the windows out of the house and almost wrecked the building.

TWELVE PAGES.

Oyster Bay and the United States.

It is not surprising that the people of Oyster Bay are more than half inclined to resent the presence in their pastoral retreat of men to guard the president of the United States. But Oyster Bay must submit, for things are different now. Theodore Roosevelt may have belonged to Oyster Bay, but President Roosevelt belongs to the people of the United States, and while Oyster Bay may have been equal to the protection of Roosevelt the citizen, it is the business of the United States to properly safeguard the president. The people of the United States feel the chief magistrate of the nation to be among friends when he is at his summer home, and would be content did not all roads lead there when the president hangs up his hat under his roof tree. It is to guard the roads that the secret service men and detectives are at Oyster Bay, and not to form a barrier between the people of that place and their honored fellow citizen. There is a time for all things, and the residents of the summer capital will, of course, recognize the fact when they think it over.

Vacation Schools.

There is both physical as well as educational utility about the vacation schools for poor children, the first of which for the present summer in this city was opened yesterday morning. They serve the charitable purpose of providing clean and healthful resorts for a number of children who would otherwise be condemned to the discomforts and dangers of the hot, fetid courts and alleys, or left to roam at large over the streets of the city. There can be only the most elementary systems of instruction used, but these have been found best even for the more serious educational work attempted among the class of children that it is hoped to reach through the vacation schools.

The work of the vacation teachers is very hard and unpleasant in most of its requirements, but the good accomplished is of such practical and humane kind that hardly any other scheme of helping the children of the poor will show such comprehensive results, including both the bodily welfare of the pupils and the opening door for more speedily reaching them with mental and moral instruction.

Senator Vest as a Prophet.

In an interview in the Washington Post, Senator Vest declaims in an interesting and highly entertaining way against the policy and course of the Republican party as manifested in the work of congress. The interview measures almost a column in length and marshals practically all that any Democrat can say against the Republican party. Nevertheless, the Democratic managers will find little in it to encourage them, for it is illuminated with a couple of flashes of common sense, indicating that when all is said against the Republican party that can be said it is seen to be intrenched in the affections of the people by its solid achievements. For instance, Senator Vest says:

> If the Republicans can continue the high pressure of the boom which has given greater prices to our manufacturers and farmers and caused an amount of circulation of money in this country hitherto unparalleled, they will carry the next presidential election.

This is equivalent to saying that the prevalent prosperity is Republican prosperity. It is a real tribute to the Republican party. If the Republicans by Democratic admissions have achieved these unparalleled conditions, Democrats, as a matter of course, cannot expect that the people will vote to reverse them. Senator Vest, looking ahead for 1904, does not expect it. Nor does he expect partial success at an earlier period, for he says:

> A great many Democrats are solicitous about the congressional elections in November, but I am not so clear myself that any important results will come from carrying the house. If we should carry the house and then financial revulsion come upon the country, in 1904, or before that time, the Republicans would declare that this was the result of a Democratic victory in the popular branch of congress.

In the one instance Mr. Vest does not think the Democrats can achieve success, and as he doesn't think it would be a good thing for them to succeed in the other instance, it was hardly worth his while to waste breath telling why they ought not to succeed. The expressions quoted would have sufficed.

Hot-Weather Evils.

With the appearance of actual summer in the shape of high temperature and prostrating humidity the people who delight in speculating on the worst features of a calamity are busy making prophecies. The principal one of these is a revival of the old theory that a cool June makes a hot July. With two or three exceedingly uncomfortable July days already as a starting point these prophets are making dire forecasts of a July remarkable for heat. The one flaw in this prophetic reasoning is that the facts do not bear out the assumption that cool Junes are necessarily followed by excessive heat in July. The official records of the weather bureau at Washington, according to a recent exhibit, show that we have had four Junes since 1871, the mean or average temperature of which was the same as that of the June just past, and three Junes with even a lower average temperature. But the record does not show that these cool Junes were followed by Julys whose heat possessed the terrors for which the evil prophets would have us prepare. The following table gives the mean temperature of June, July and August in the seven years above alluded to:

Year.	June.	July.	August.
1871	70	75	77
1875	70	75	72
1878	67	78	74
1881	67	76	76
1886	70	76	74
1896	70	78	77
1897	69	76	74

This showing does not contain a peg upon which to hang doleful forecasts for the present month of July. The truth of the matter is, weather prophesying and conjecture, when the temperature is abnormally high or low, contains no element of certainty so far as comparisons are concerned. Hot weather is a usual accompaniment of our summers in this latitude. By careful avoidance of excessive exposure and moderation in both eating and drinking the normally healthy man is in no great danger from the heat. To worry about it is proverbially to invite its worst effects.

To Restrain the Shooters.

The ordinance which proposes to restrain the pernicious activity of those misguided persons who insist upon using high explosives in the celebration of independence Day is a good thing and should be pushed along by councils and by the recorder. Comparatively innocuous fireworks can provide all the noise really needed on the Fourth of July, and all the danger as well. High explosives must never become popular as playthings. Revolvers are weapons, and it is not necessary to discharge them by way of expressing one's faith in the principles of the great republic. It is quite possible to be a patriot without exploding dynamite and nitroglycerine, and endangering the lives of persons who are just as patriotic as the exuberant shooters.

The revolvers confiscated by the peck in Schenley park last Friday are so many indications of the need of a law forbidding the shooting of cartridges, either loaded or blank, as well as the use of dangerous cannon crackers, and other contrivances likely to result in death or injury. If the danger could be restricted to the handlers of these instruments of destruction, the necessity for such an ordinance would not be so strong, but it is usually the innocent bystander who suffers, and he ought to be protected.

Oleo and Color.

There is no stopping the oleo men. One firm proposes to send a little coloring matter with each package of oleo. Another asks permission to use palm oil in lieu of cottonseed oil to give color to the product. There are some people who want their oleomargarine yellow, just as there are people who insist upon having their butter that way. The oleo men, dairymen, creamery men and farmer men all strive to please, so they put the same color in. At least they did until a tax was put upon colored oleo. Now the oleo men must seek other expedients or sell their product for creamery butter, which it is not. In the history of congress there has been no more senseless legislation than that against the sale of oleomargarine, which every honest chemist will pronounce a genuine, wholesome food product.

Dumas Pere.

France is conspicuously mindful of the memory of her distinguished sons, and is so generously impartial in this respect as to include in the roster of those for whom she halos fete days her poets, dramatists and novelists, as well as her soldiers and politicians. But a little while ago the republic paused in her busy modern progress to commemorate in bronze the virtues and gifts of Victor Hugo. During the past few days the centenary of still another distinguished Frenchman of letters has been made the occasion for a brilliant celebration. Alexandre Dumas, the elder, was born July 4, 1802, and the French savants are not yet through with the interesting exercises that were inaugurated to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of that event.

Dumas' influence upon the literature of France was never profound, though his work served to give dramatic authorship a new impetus. It was Dumas' contact with Shakespeare's work, to which he was first introduced through the English actor, Macready, that gave trend and force to his most conspicuous early compositions. It was under this influence that he wrote "Christine," one of his first great plays, followed almost immediately by "Henri III.," the first successful play of what was later known as the "Romantic School." It was not until 1844, however, that the work that gave Dumas world-wide recognition, "Monte Christo," appeared. This story was followed by "The Three Musketeers," and to those two compositions more than to all the other alleged 1,200 stories and plays from his pen is due his lasting fame in America.

Though several times a wealthy man the great dramatist died a pauper after his brilliant faculties had one by one undergone decay. France has rightfully enshrined his memory among her immortals as a brilliant genius, and the observance of his centenary has been marked by conspicuous honors in memory of his achievements in the world of letters.

Cholera in Philippines.

Cholera is epidemic in the Philippines, and it is taxing the resources of the American authorities there to prevent its exportation. The people are ignorant of sanitary rules, so they give little help in suppressing the malady. Since peace has been proclaimed, however, we may expect to see the civil government getting to work, as the provisional government in Cuba did, to improve the sanitation of towns and cities. The source of cholera infection is much better understood than was that of yellow fever when Gen. Wood undertook to eliminate that disease from Cuba. The sanitary precautions are well known, and if peaceful conditions prevail they may be enforced so as to put an end to the plague.

Kitchener and the Boers.

Lord Kitchener has raised himself considerably higher in the public esteem by the frank words of praise that he bestows upon the Boer soldiers. Any other verdict would have reflected upon the quality of his own men. The British officer has been for months in a position where he could study the character of the Boer fighter and his conclusion is that the world contains few better types of soldier than the simple-hearted Boer. "His persistence," says Lord Kitchener, "is his crowning characteristic, but to this is added a quiet, unostentatious courage and an accurate knowledge of the principles of warfare in the open that entitle him to the highest honor." These are generous words of praise from a distinguished soldier who has had good reason to feel sore over the uncomfortably narrow escapes he has made from losing his own reputation as a fighter through the superior tactics, at certain important crises, of the men whom he praises.

It is more than likely that England will profit widely by her costly experiences in South Africa, but in no particular has she learned a more valuable lesson than that indicated in Lord Kitchener's tribute to the Boer soldiers. The Englishman can never hereafter sneer at the Boer, and this fact may have an important bearing on the future relations between the two peoples. What Lord Kitchener has said was already known to the rest of the world, and that knowledge, now that it has come to the Englishman, ought to go a long way toward softening his future judgment and dealing with his South African colonists.

While the announcement is made that King Edward has progressed so far toward recovery as to be able to enjoy the funny things in the newspapers, we trust that no one will be so indiscreet as to give him a peep at that Austin coronation ode.

It is a long time after to celebrate the anniversary of Braddock's defeat, but the custom should be kept up and it is time the scene was marked by a monument.

Aguinaldo free is a pitiable spectacle. His preconceived notions of Filipino freedom all had Aguinaldo in the role of dictator, living on the fat of the land.

J. Pierpont Morgan says poker is a bad, wicked game. This is rather unfair from the man who has managed to gather in nearly all the blue chips in sight.

Served Seventy-Four Years.

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Austrian army has an active general who is 95 years old. This is Field Marshal Lieut. Baron Schwartz-Meillier, who has been an officer 74 years and 50 years a general. He is one of five officers still alive who marched with their baggage on their packs from Lamberg to Naples.

BROOKLYN HOMES PREY OF THUGS

Shooting of a Royal Arcanum Man in His Own House Spreads Dismay.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 7.

Brooklyn is becoming more and more disturbed over the frequency of burglaries. Until a stranger went into the house of Albert C. Latimer and shot him nearly to death a few days ago, householders were not more than unusually excited. They had become accustomed to burglars stepping into homes, taking what they wanted and stepping out again, with no one to interfere; but this murderous assault in the Latimer home was a different thing. The victim is a big man in the Royal Arcanum, and the order is powerful enough to make a disturbance when one of its officers is half murdered by robbers after Royal Arcanum money. Not only in New York are members of the order determined that the thug shall not escape, but in Pittsburgh and hundreds of other cities and towns the feeling is that the fellow must be caught at all hazards. One man has been arrested on suspicion, but the suspicion does not appear to be well based. Meanwhile, the Royal Arcanum here is working on the case on its own account, with private detectives and all the machinery it can command. Brooklyn is a city of homes and is supposed to be quiet and peaceful. It is, in a general way; but there have been so many robberies in the borough of late, that Brooklynites think they would be safer in Manhattan. It is the peculiarity of assault and robbery on the Manhattan side of the East river that it takes place generally in the street, or else in some place where the victims might reasonably expect to be attacked. In Brooklyn most of these crimes recorded have been committed in homes, where the injured person might have supposed himself to be moderately secure. Now that the Latimer shooting promises to be one of the unsolved mysteries of Greater New York, the apprehension that existed to such a marked extent a few weeks ago has been revived, and the police are beginning to feel that some activity on their part is absolutely necessary, if only to satisfy public opinion.

More Company for Touring Teachers.

A number of well-known Pittsburghers sailed for Liverpool on the big White Star liner Celtic on the morning of the Fourth of July. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dilworth, Miss Dorothy Dilworth, Jack and Joseph Dilworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beggs, J. Dilworth, Lawrence P. and H. C. Beggs, Jr. The Misses Anna and Elizabeth Cook of Canonsburg also were passengers on the Celtic. They will join The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph teachers' excursion party in London and accompany them on their tour of the continent and Scotland.

Prosperity for Brooklyn.

Busy times are ahead at the Brooklyn navy yard. Much satisfaction is expressed here over the determination of Secretary Moody at Washington, to build a battleship in Brooklyn. It will be some time before the actual work will begin, because plans have to be prepared, but the fact that there will be a great deal of work in due course means good times in Brooklyn. The navy yard is busy, as it is, but there are always many workmen looking forward to employment there, contingent on some big work like the making of a new battleship. That the new ship will mean more active times in the steel mills of Pittsburgh is obvious.

Latest Skyscraper Project.

The tall, flatiron skyscraper at the junction of Broadway, Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street, nearing completion, is looked upon as such a success in commercial building that there is to be another one further up town. It will be on the famous triangle at Longacre square, where the Pabst hotel stood until the rapid transit subway came along. The hotel is there still, but the building to be put up will absorb it, so it is understood, and the whole locality will be changed in appearance. That this is one of the most valuable business sites in upper Broadway no one can doubt, and as it is owned by an estate that will not sell, but only lease, the owner stands to enjoy all the benefits that may come from steady improvement. An evening paper says that a morning newspaper will occupy part of the building, but I have it from the paper referred to that this statement is premature.

Quietude at the Beaches.

Things quieted down at Coney Island, Rockaway and similar popular seashore resorts today. The reaction from the tremendous rush of holiday-makers every day since last Thursday was something appalling. The sea was there today, as usual, but the crowds were tired out. Apparently, it was one of the quietest days at the beaches that has been seen since the setting in of summer.

Reform Administration Economical.

Economy is the watchword of the present municipal administration. This is proved by Comptroller Grout's statement for the first six months of the year, issued today. It shows that less than half of the amount appropriated for the running of the city departments for the year has been spent; that is to say, that out of the total of $64,932,872 appropriated, only $44,704,417 has been expended. And the city has been as well managed as under the costly Tammany management, too.

Prominent Men's Vacations.

Former Mayor Van Wyck has taken up his residence for the remainder of this month at the Octagon hotel, Seabright, N. J. He probably will spend August in Saratoga as the guest of his bosom friend, John F. Carroll, who has rented a handsome cottage there for the summer. The Carroll cottage is some distance from the village, but close to the race track. The vacation exodus from the city of present municipal officials, is in full swing. Almost every week sees some head of a department or his secretary off on a three-weeks' pleasure trip. Mayor Low enjoys his daily journey to and from Rye, where he is established for the summer. His official vacation will be in the second week in August, and will be spent in golfing, yachting, driving and bicycling.

The Hobby Horse Case in Court.

George H. Huneke was injured while riding on one of the wooden horses in the steeplechase at Coney Island lately, and the trial of his suit for damages lasted for over a week and a half in the supreme court, winning there the title of the "hobby horse" case, from the fact that the wooden horse on which the plaintiff was injured was conspicuously displayed in the courtroom. Huneke obtained a judgment for $25,429.24 last March. When he tried to collect the amount of the judgment, the execution was returned unsatisfied. He began another action, in which he charged that the directors of the amusement company were trying to defraud him in the collection of the judgment. An injunction restraining the defendant from disposing of any of the property pending the action was granted, and a receiver for the company was appointed today.

Bott Stradivarius Legal Tangle.

That rather famous Stradivarius violin which was once the property of Joseph Jean Bott, has at last been placed in the possession of his widow, Mrs. Matilda Bott. Recorder Goff today ordered that she should have it. The history of the Bott Stradivarius has been made part of the court records yearly for a long time. Nicolini, husband of Adelina Patti, is said to have offered $4,000 for the violin, but his offer was refused by Bott because it was made in the form of a check. Later the violin was stolen and Victor S. Fletcher, a dealer in musical instruments in Union square, was arrested and convicted of the theft, and that conviction the higher courts affirmed. Then Fletcher's lawyer moved for a new trial on the ground of newly-discovered evidence, and Recorder Goff took the case under advisement. Meanwhile Alderman Bott died, police court historians asserted, of grief for the loss of his violin. The "Strad" passed through several hands and at last brought up in a pawnshop, in Eighth avenue. After straightening out a number of legal complications by main strength, the recorder saw that the instrument passed into the possession of Mrs. Bott, and called the next case. The violin is said by musicians to be a beauty and one of the best examples of the great master's work.

Time-Stained Photos.

Down in West Twenty-third street there is a small store where one can buy photographs of well-known actresses of the present day who would no more think of going before the footlights in short skirts than would any other highly respectable matron, but in this stock are exhibited the ladies as they appeared 15 or 20 years ago, in uncompromising burlesque costume, without any skirts at all. Among the well-known stage favorites on exhibition in this queer little show window, are Fanny Rice, Fay Templeton, Mollie Fuller, Pauline Hall, Jennie Joyce, Anna Boyle, Fanny Ward and a dozen others. All of them are cavorting in the kind of costumes with which David Henderson made Pittsburgh familiar with his "Crystal Slipper," "Sinbad" and the other spectacles that he produced at the Duquesne theater when he was manager of that house. The faces as well as the figures of most of the actresses shown have changed since these photographs were made, while the stains of time on the pictures also testify that a decade or two must have passed since they came from the photograph gallery originally.

The Chinamen Smile Last.

Eighteen Chinamen, smiling unctiously were discharged by Magistrate Cornell today, when arraigned before him on a complaint that they had been gambling. The game was said to be fan-tan. The policemen who raided the alleged gambling house in Pell street, admitted that they did not know fan-tan from ping-pong, but that they saw the Chinamen playing with cards, and pulled them in. Said the magistrate, dryly: "Unless some of the inhabitants of that eminently-respectable locality known as Chinatown made a formal complaint, I cannot hold these gentlemen. It is no different for these Chinamen to play cards than for clubmen and others." Some one chuckled at this, but if was not one of the policemen, and no one could swear it was a Chinaman.

Maurice Barrymore's Condition.

Once more comes a denial that Maurice Barrymore is near death. He is in a sanitarium near Amityville, Long Island, hopelessly sick with paresis, but his physicians say he is not any worse than he has been any time these three months. It is understood that the once brilliant actor can never come out of the place alive, but it is hoped that, like Bartley Campbell, Scanlan and other theatrical people who have been victims, he may live happily for years before nature succumbs to the inevitable.

A Municipal Songstress.

Miss Kitty Rambone, daughter of Signor Rambone, who used to be leader of the Old Guard band, has been engaged by the city to sing at the public concerts given Saturday afternoons at Morningside park, and Saturday evenings at Mount Morris park. This is probably the first time that a woman singer has been engaged by the city to please the public.

A Gem of Aldermanic Oratory.

When some one in the board of aldermen this afternoon offered an amended "cut-ahead" ordinance, the immortal Bridges, the alderman from Brooklyn, who wore what he called his "funeral coat" when he paid his respects to Prince Henry in this city some months ago, burst out with awful eloquence: "I'm agin that ther motion, Mr. Chairman, an' I'll tell you why. It 'pears to me like some man here is tryin' to steal the wit and power an' thunder made by another alderman."

Midsummer School Going.

"Vacation schools" are a useful institution in New York city. It is an old complaint of parents everywhere that the mid-summer holidays are altogether too long, and these fill-in "schools" are a relief to many a pestered mother who gets too much of her offspring in the dog days. The attendance at the opening of the schools this morning at 9 o'clock was even in excess of the number recorded on the registration days last week. Long before the appointed hour large numbers of children were gathered at the various school gates, all seemingly anxious to begin the work, which is intended both to keep them out of the streets and mischief, and also to turn their minds and bodies in the direction of usefulness and future good citizenship.

The President's Fourth.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Fourth of July celebration at Pittsburgh was a notable event because of the immense crowds, the great outburst of genuine American enthusiasm, and especially because President Roosevelt, the leader of the Republican party and the chief magistrate, grappled with the great questions of the day with a characteristic courage and directness which must extort admiration from even the opposition.

He had just come from a long and serious contest with a cabal or faction in his own party. By gaining a temporary victory the beet sugar combine placed the Republican party in an embarrassing position as the friend of the trusts, but the president, after a generous word for the American soldier boys a difficult work, rushes eagerly to the fray and devotes his attention to Cuba and the trusts in general. He refuses to be put on the defensive, he fought for reciprocity, and he will keep up the fight until justice is done.

Slightly Worse Than Pittsburgh.

From the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The man closed the bathroom door and locked it. He looked with fierce determination at the bathtub, half filled, and, setting his jaw, hissed: "I'll do it or break a leg!"

Picking up a couple of dumbbells weighing 10 pounds apiece he sprang into the air and landed on the water. Then he stepped out again, unmindful of the pain the jar had given him.

Bending over the tub once more he laughed triumphantly.

"I have accomplished it at last," he cried. "I have put a three-inch dent in that water!"

But, of course, this is fiction. He lived in Cincinnati and the water, at present writing, is far too muddy to be dented.

BIG POLITICIANS AT THE SEASHORE

Gov. Stone and J. O. Brown Have Rooms at Same Hotel. Quay Coming Sunday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 7.—Recorder J. O. Brown, who arrived here Sunday simultaneously with County Treasurer McClure, Register Fred Edwards and Arch Mackrell, left Atlantic City today. He has retained his apartments at the St. Charles, and as Gov. Stone has engaged rooms at the same hotel for Thursday, it is more than probable the recorder and governor will be in conference here later in the week.

Senator Penrose was here Sunday, and it is reported that he and the Pittsburghers had a long conference on the political situation. According to reports in circulation here Gov. Stone will also meet Senator Quay this week, and Atlantic City may be the scene of the meeting.

Debt-Burdened Man's Suicide.

Roger Elliott, aged 28 years of Germantown, Philadelphia, committed suicide under the boardwalk at Belmont avenue late this afternoon. In his right hand when discovered was a revolver, and there was a bullet hole in his head.

Elliott, who was in the employ of the Link Belt Engineering Company of Nicetown, near Philadelphia, came here on July 3. In his pockets were about $2 in cash, a return ticket to Philadelphia, some trinkets and the address of Mrs. John A. Hayworth of Uniontown, Pa., with instructions to notify in case of accident. It was learned tonight that Elliott told a friend some days ago he was coming to Atlantic City to end his life or leave for parts unknown, as he was heavily in debt.

Green Glass Bottle Workers.

The annual convention of the Green Glass Bottle Blowers' association of the United States and Canada was opened today in I. O. O. F. hall on New York avenue. Dennis Hayes, president of the organization, occupied the chair, and 184 delegates were in attendance. Much business of importance will come before the convention, and the meetings are being held behind closed doors. Today's session was devoted entirely to the work of organization. President Hayes informed The Gazette representative that several days will elapse before the wage and apprentice questions will be taken up.

The Jewish Chautauqua.

There was a decided increase in attendance at the second days' session of the Jewish Chautauqua assembly. Gerson B. Levi opened today's meeting with the Hebrew class, and was followed by Rabbi Martin A. Meyer of San Francisco, fellow of the American school at Palestine, who spoke on "The Palestine of Today." Addie J. Rosenberg of Cleveland came next, with the kindergarten class, and the day's session concluded with a lecture by Max J. Kohler of New York, on "The Jews in Pre-Shakespearean Literature." Tonight Prof. Leon H. Vincent delivered another lecture at the Hotel Rudolf, his subject being "American Humor."

Allegheny Man Rescued.

A throng of people watched the life guards pull Gustave Wagner, whose home is on Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, out of the surf this morning. Wagner has been here since Thursday to spend the Fourth and most of his time has been spent in the water. This morning he attempted to swim around Young's pier. He started from the wrong side of the pier and the current, which was flowing down the beach, washed him against the piling with such force that he was partly stunned.

PURIFIER OF POLITICS.

Social Settlement Ideas Voiced by Chautauqua Lecturer.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 7.—(Special.)—The second week of the Chautauqua assembly has been given over to the social settlement people, and the prominent workers in this line are arriving from all parts of the country. Chicago alone sending 75 representatives. The first session of the conference was held this morning, the subject for discussion being "Settlement Mediation Between Politics and Religion."

Dr. Graham Taylor, the principal speaker, told in detail how the settlement is purifying politics in the worst wards of his city, and how it is putting down the saloon element in time of municipal elections.

Miss Jane Addams, founder of Hull house, and one of the best-known social settlement workers in America, began this afternoon a series of lectures on "The Newer Ideals of Peace." Miss Addams spoke of war as a waste of energy and something to be ashamed of, and prophesied that before many years nations will settle their differences by arbitration instead of killing off their people. If a nation would look well to the interests of its people there would be less cause for war. A warship costs as much as a university, and the expense of maintaining the men to run it would pay the salaries of a faculty.

When we care for our people as we should there will be no such words in our vocabulary as "slums" or "inferior classes." Any nation that allows its people to be underfed, poorly housed, permits as great blunder, from the economist's point of view, as do those who lose capital by allowing the industrial population to deteriorate by means of the sweatshops.

PERSONALS.

"The iron and steel business has been put on the ragged edge in Eastern Pennsylvania by the anthracite coal miners' strike," said Elmer McClure, member of a Philadelphia firm manufacturing mill machinery. Mr. McClure was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last evening for Chicago. "One of the companies with which I have dealings has furnaces at six places in that part of the state. At four of the places the furnaces are banked, and of course the mills can roll no steel unless the pig iron is being produced." When asked as to the probable outcome of the strike, Mr. McClure said that there is no use speculating on it; that the whole matter is in doubt. The suffering in the hard coal region is becoming great, he stated, there being almost no money in circulation.

William A. Johnston, formerly with the engineering department of the Pennsylvania railroad in Pittsburgh, was at the Union station last evening en route east on a business trip. Mr. Johnston is now one of the most prominent citizens of the prosperous city of Barberton, O. After leaving Pittsburgh, about a dozen years ago, he went to Philadelphia in the service of the railroad on the New York division, but left the company two years later to lay out the present town of Barberton. He is now president of the American National bank of that city and is identified with many of its industries.

Among the guests at the Duquesne last evening were two tourists from abroad, G. H. Greenwell, a mining engineer of Manchester, England, and Dr. H. C. Schneider of Berlin, Germany. Mr. Greenwell said last evening that his present trip to Pittsburgh is part of a tour of this country. He expects to visit here the Carnegie plants and the Westinghouse electric works. Speaking of the Westinghouse works he said the erection of the big plant at his home city of Manchester has attracted in a remarkable degree the attention of the British Islands to the genius of Pittsburgh industries.

On the personally-conducted tour of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, starting last evening, 153 teachers from Pittsburgh and vicinity left the city. The party is in charge of George H. Thompson, city passenger agent of the road; City Superintendent Samuel Andrews and Charles Reisfar, Jr., secretary of the central board of education. In the 10 days of the trip the party will visit Montreal, go down the St. Lawrence to Quebec, visit the Adirondack mountain resorts and Niagara Falls, and return to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Frank A. Brobst, wife of the proprietor of the Lincoln, and B. H. Brobst, assistant manager, left yesterday for Saegertown, where they will spend the season. B. C. Brooker of the clerical force of the hotel, will leave this evening for his home at Columbia, S. C., to spend his vacation. Norton W. Brooker returned last evening from the same place.

G. L. Peck, general manager, and A. B. Starr, general superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, left last evening for Columbus to attend to some railroad business there today.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Col. Shallenberger's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—(Special.)—The funeral services over the remains of Col. George A. Shallenberger, brother of Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger of Rochester, Pa., whose death occurred Friday afternoon, were held this morning at Calvary Baptist church, of which Col. Shallenberger had for many years been a member. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. S. H. Greene, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. J. Muir, pastor of the Temple Baptist congregation. A large number of friends of the bereaved family were present and in the audience was noticed a number of prominent men and teachers and ministers who had been closely associated with Col. Shallenberger in various lines of work at the District of Columbia Reform school, of which the deceased was superintendent for 20

Society

ALL the summer playgrounds of Pittsburgh and Allegheny opened simultaneously yesterday morning. The schoolyards set apart for the playgrounds were besieged by 5,000 children at an early hour, and when the teachers and the women who composed the committees in charge arrived half an hour before the opening time, 9 o'clock, the fences were lined with eager, anxious and pinched little faces, whose owners swarmed into the school grounds and immediately took possession.

Little was accomplished yesterday morning at any of the playgrounds save the enrollment of the children. This was an interesting process, and the writing of the names was no easy task for the chairmen of the committees and their secretaries, for the majority of the children are from families of foreign nationality. German, Polish, Russian, Hungarian, Italian, Irish, Hebrew and African. In some of the playgrounds were many babies carried in the arms of their mothers or pushed in go-carts or carriages by older brothers and sisters. In the Ninth ward playground, Allegheny, an innovation was brought about by the introduction of large hampers and big clothes baskets filled with excelsior, in which the babies were placed to play to their hearts' content while their mothers hurried home, leaving them in the care of the teachers and the older boys and girls.

The introduction of manual training into the routine of the work and play at the summer playgrounds this season will be watched with a great deal of interest. Miss Louise Taylor is supervisor of the entire manual training work and will be ably assisted by instructors in the various features of the work, the general Sloyd work, sewing, cooking and basketry. Manual training will not be introduced this year into the playgrounds in Allegheny because of the failure of Allegheny councils to appropriate funds for the support of the playgrounds on the North Side, which is derived from the general treasury of the joint committee of Women's clubs, though Allegheny people have contributed largely to the supplies which were needed for the playgrounds, their donations being designated as for the Allegheny playgrounds.

The entire enrollment at the different playgrounds has not yet been secured, but more than 4,000 children were initiated into the delights of the summer playgrounds yesterday and many more may be added to the list before the season is over.

Three hundred children were admittted to the playground at the high school building, Bedford avenue and Fulton street, yesterday. Mrs. Mattie Patterson is chairman of the committee in charge at that playground, and with her assistants received the names of the children as they were admitted and divided into classes, according to their ages. The little ones were placed in the kindergarten room, where they will be taught the kindergarten games and songs. The older girls and boys were also arranged in groups for the work which they will take up.

The cooking class will go up to Kingsley house for lessons, the cooking plant there having been placed at their disposal for certain hours. At the high school playground all the features of the industrial and manual training work taken up by the joint committee of Women's clubs this season will be introduced. The children come from the crowded sections of Wylie avenue and Herron Hill and many of its alleys and courts, and represent the great group of varied nationalities which are huddled together there.

Five hundred children were enrolled in the summer playground at the Third ward school, Allegheny. Sixty of the children were babies for whom the new feature, excelsior-filled hampers, were provided and which they appreciated and engage to enjoy every morning of the week from 9 o'clock until 12. Miss Stevenson is the kindergarten teacher in charge of the playground, her assistants being Miss Rankin and Miss Dickson, the same who were in charge last summer. No manual training work will be introduced into the Third ward playground, Allegheny, because of the large number of children there, but with the kindergarten for the little ones, toys for the babies and interesting games for the older children. Mrs. Howard Morton, the chairman of the committee of ladies in charge, who are chiefly members of the Colloquium club, anticipates meeting fully the needs and desires of the children of the ward.

Friday will be flower day at all of the playgrounds and flowers will be distributed to all of the children, men and women interested in the work providing the flowers, which will be presented with pleasing exercises, songs and drills, including the familiar flag drill, which has become one of the prominent features at the playgrounds during past seasons.

The Birmingham school playground on the South Side opened yesterday morning with an enrollment of 250 children, the larger number of children being between the ages of 5 and 14, a dozen babies completing the number upon the enrollment books. Mrs. Samuel Miller is the chairman of the committee in charge of the Birmingham playground, a position which she has occupied for five years, and she was most agreeably pleased yesterday morning to find all of the children arrive at the playground at 9 o'clock with clean faces and hands, their clothes also showing careful attention. In former years it has been Mrs. Miller's lot to have a general washing of faces and hands, and she has often been at the necessity of finding suitable clothing for the children who presented themselves at the playground gate.

Yesterday morning little was done at the Birmingham school beyond grading the children according to their ages, placing the smaller ones in the kindergarten room, 50 of the older boys in another room where they will take up the Sloyd work, 50 of the older girls also being placed in a third room where they will take up sewing and basketry. Miss Clause will supervise the Sloyd work. Miss Clause is the instructor in this work at the Birmingham school throughout the school year, and has been engaged to carry it on in the vacation school.

The recreation park in Carson street, South Pittsburgh, which was recently purchased by the central board of education is "booming," as one of its most enthusiastic promoters forcibly expresses it. The park is filled every day and evening, and on Saturdays there is a general game of ball which attracts a great many visitors. Last Friday and Saturday over 1,500 people witnessed the games played there. The games and all the various athletic events are given under the care of John Weber, the custodian of the grounds. This recreation park was opened last summer by the recreation park committee of the joint committee of women's clubs, Mrs. Samuel Miller and Mrs. Mattie Patterson, chairmen. Since the opening the value of such a playground for the older boys and young men has been tested with the result that the central board of education has purchased the plot of ground, a very valuable one in the heart of the lower South Side district, and it is crowded with boys every evening who profit by the athletic equipment with which it is provided.

Wimodausis Picnic.

The Wimodausis club will have a picnic tomorrow afternoon and evening at Kennywood park, which will ve a very extensive and elaborate affair. In the afternoon the second floor of the Casino, the immense open room above the dining room, will be filled with tables for euchre, for which many very handsome prizes have been provided. The exclusive use of the dancing pavilion has been reserved for the club during the evening. Supper will be served in the dining room and the many attractions of the park will be open for the club and its guests. The Wimodausis club has planned and is giving this picnic to increase the fund which it has started for the building of a woman's club house in Pittsburgh. The project was announced a few weeks ago and created no little interest among the club women of the two cities, who appreciate the enterprise of the Wimodausis club, though unwilling to take up the work and responsibilities themselves which such an undertaking involves.

Richardson—Abel.

The wedding of Miss Alice Richardson of Bellefonte street, East End, and Mr. A. Essler Abel, on last Thursday evening, was announced yesterday. Miss Richardson is well known in Allegheny, where for the past eight years she had been a teacher in school building No. 1, Eleventh ward. Miss Richardson, after graduating from the Allegheny High school, attended the State Normal school at Indiana, Pa., for one year and then entered the Normal school at Slippery Rock, Pa., from which institution she graduated with honors. Shortly after graduating she was elected a teacher in the Eleventh ward schools, continuing in that position until the close of the school term in June. Mr. Abel, who is also well-known in both Allegheny and Pittsburgh, having resided in this section for some time, has business interests in West Virginia, and lately had been making his headquarters in Elizabeth, which Mr. and Mrs. Abel will make their future home.

Confer Over Building Plans.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Public Wash House and Baths association was held yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. D. C. Clapp, the president, in Amberson avenue, Shadyside. It was the last meeting of the season, the next to be held in the fall when the women have all returned from their summer trips. The discussion yesterday morning was mainly about the plans for the building which is to be erected in Lawrenceville in the near future, the board of managers conferring with the building committee, of which Mrs. John B. Herron is chairman, over details.

IBERG'S FLOATERS PROVED PUZZLING TO THE PIRATES

CHANGED THEIR STYLE AND GOT THE VICTORY

COUNCIL OF WAR HELD

Jack O'Connor Furnished a Puzzle Solution Which Brought the Champions Runs and the Game—It Was a Very Cleverly Played Contest.

It took a lot of hard plugging on the part of the champion Pirates to get yesterday's game away from the Quakers. They finally accomplished the task, the score being 5 to 3, but the scare thrown into the 1,959 spectators was enough to take the edge off their supper appetites. However, things turned out all right, so that all's well that ends well.

If the majority of the Pittsburgh players did not spend the night in the care of physicians, being treated for curvature of the spine, it was not the fault of a young man named Iberg, who is a product of that glorious climate of California. That same Mr. Iberg should sandwich a "C. E." in the first syllable of his name, and it would suit him first-rate. They say that some hot things come out of the western soil, but Mr. Iberg is not one of them. On the contrary, he was about as cool a proposition as the Pirates have stacked up against in a long time, and no matter what the doings were they did not seem to discourage the Californian a whit.

Iberg and His Slow Ball.

Iberg is a pitcher with a George Cuppy-like motion, and a slow ball that would not put a dent in a pound of butter in August. He had that slow ball going yesterday afternoon, and for seven innings the Pittsburgh batters were twisting their spinal columns into all kinds of shapes in an effort to lay their bats on the ball. There was absolutely no speed to the Californian's delivery, in fact the ball looked as big as a balloon when he sent it sailing gracefully toward the home plate, and the Pirate batters thought they had a soft snap and would drive boards off the fence in the extreme outfields, but that's where they were fooled.

It looked strange to see a great, big, able-bodied batter like Clarke, Wagner and Bransfield whale away at a ball no speedier than those delivered by school-boy twirlers, and yet not be able to get the ball outside of the diamond. The fifth inning was where Iberg put up his best performance, striking out Tannehill, who is the leading batter of the league; Davis and Clarke in succession. From the applause bestowed one would have thought it was a Pittsburgh pitcher who performed the feat.

Pirates Held a Pow-Wow.

It was a pity that Mr. Iberg could not go through the entire game in the same manner he did the fifth inning, but that was entirely too much to expect, and his undoing came in the eighth. The Pirates held a council of war, and Rowdy Jack O'Connor suggested that his college chums quit trying to drive the ball over against the Exposition building, on the other side of the river, and turn their attention toward base hits and runs. "Just meet it," was the edict issued at the conclusion of the pow-wow.

The experiment was tried in the seventh by the busy B's, Bransfield and Burke, both of whom got singles, and right there ended the effectiveness of Iberg's slow ball. In the eighth the champions did just meet it, and that style of play, together with a nice, healthy error by our vaudeville friend Billy Hallman, allowed the Pirates three runs, which was one more than enough needed for a victory. There is nothing like versatility of action in baseball, and the Pirates showed they were versatile when they shifted their plan of action in the eighth.

Jesse Tannehill, who was on the Pirates' firing line, was just a bit careless in the first and second innings, but after that he put on steam and held the Quakers safe all the way. The very first ball that Tannehill pitched was soaked out against the right field fence by Roy Thomas, and it counted for a three-bagger. Roy got home when Wagner fumbled Hulswith's bounder. In the second Brown led off with a single and Billy Hallman, after getting a vocal welcome from his friends in the scorer's box, was unkind enough to smash the ball into deep left for three bases, scoring Brown. In the sixth Jennings led off with a single, went to second on Smith's wild throw and scored on Hulswith's single to right. That accounts for the Quakers' three runs.

O'Connor's Plan a Success.

Iberg, in the Pirates' first half had trouble locating the plate, and Davis walked and stole second. Clarke was also given a free pass. Beaumont's short single to left was enough to let Davis in with the first run, and Clarke went to second. Manager Fred stole third and scored on Bransfield's out at first. The Pirates did not score again until the eighth, when the "just meet it" plan was tried. Clarke led off with a double to left and Beaumont beat out a bunt on which Fred took third. Wagner drove a hot one at Hallman, who fumbled, Clarke scoring the tieing run and Beau going to second. Bransfield's pretty bunt again filled the bases. Burke drove one at Hulswith and Beau was out at the plate. Tommy Leach was advised to "just meet it," and this advice netted a neat single to left, on which Wagner and Bransfield scored. Smith and Tannehill ended the fun by going out on flies. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Eddie Doherty will likely be called on to do the pitching for the Pirates today, and Brother-in-law Chic Fraser for the Phillies.

Umpire Emslie in some way twisted his foot in the first inning and took a hasty seat on the turf and nursed the sore member back into walking shape.

The very first ball that Tannehill pitched was landed on by Roy Thomas, the Quaker captain, and it went to the right field fence and counted for a three-bagger.

Little Sorrel Top Loolin, the Quakers' clever catcher, has a peculiar way of picking a ball up. He never goes straight down after it but always reaches around his leg backward while in a stooping position.

Yesterday was the first time this season that Jesse Tannehill went through a game without getting at least one hit. Jess made two good bids for hits yesterday, but clever work by Barry and Childs robbed him of hits.

Bransfield and Leach furnished the early spectators a little fun in the preliminary practice, when they exchanged positions, Tommy going to first and Kitty to third, and both showed clever work in their new fields.

In the ninth inning the Quakers tried for a first early and Catcher Jacklitch was sent up to bat for Iberg. The substitute struck out on the first three balls pitched and a grandstander was unkind enough to cry out, "Iberg couldn't have done worse than that."

In the eighth inning Catcher Smith tried to get away with a little trick, but was called by the umpire. One of Iberg's hooters was close to Harry and he stuck out his leg and let the ball hit him. The umpire stood on a run for first base, but the umpire called him back.

Claude Ritchey was not feeling well so he took a day off and Jimmy Burke took his place at second base, where he had but little work to do. Jimmy made one catch, however, that was sensational, getting the ball over the foul line after a long run and with outstretched hands. It was a very clever bit of work, which the spectators loudly applauded.

That boy Iberg certainly has a peculiar delivery. The balls he served up yesterday did not have speed enough to crack a pane of glass, yet the Pirate batters could not get them outside the diamond for six innings, and the way Clarke's men lammed away at them was laughable; in fact Philadelphia players joined the spectators in their laugh at the champions' dilemma. The ball looked easy to hit, but wasn't easy by a long shot.

There is seldom a game played by the Pirates that Tommy Leach does not spring at least one play which sets the spectators to their feet. Tommy was at it again yesterday and his pick-up of Thomas' hot grounder in the ninth and throw to first, beating out the fleetfooted Roy, was one of the distinctive plays of the game. Tommy is like good liquor. He improves with age, and today is the best third-baseman playing ball, bar none.

In the fifth inning, after Tannehill and Davis had struck out, Clarke went up and made two fearful lunges at Iberg's hooters, but didn't get near the ball. Clarke's second strike was so hard that the bat slipped from his hands and nearly took a leg off Hughey Jennings at first base. The crowd gave Freddie the laugh, and turning to the grand stand, he shouted, "Just wait, I've got one more coming." He got his one more and again the bat slipped and rolled towards first, while the ball rested in the catcher's hands. Fred didn't turn toward the stand this time; he just walked out to left field with his eyes cast on the ground.

Roy Thomas, the Quaker captain, is one of the most superstitious men playing ball. In going to bat Roy must be walked back mother and umpire or else he is afraid of being hoodooed. In the fifth inning yesterday Umpire Emslie was standing back of the plate and Harry Smith, who had been warming up Tannehill, started back to get his mask just as Roy was stepping up to the plate. It looked as though Roy would have to call off his superstition, but he didn't, he walked back with Smith, and when Harry picked up his mask the Quaker captain walked around him, then went gleefully to the plate, only to go out from Tannehill to Bransfield.

Billy Hallman didn't do a thing but fool the crowd yesterday. Billy is a vaudeville artist in winter and in the summer months plays ball just for pastime. When the Quakers come here Bill is always given a warm greeting by his friends in the scorer's box, who vocalize thusly, "Oh, how I soaked dot ball," then a brake, as a song and dance man would say, follows. Billy got his usual greeting yesterday and proceeded to smash out a three-bagger, then just to show there was no hard feelings, he got two more hits, both singles. Bill was hitting them to all parts of the field; his three-bagger went to left, his first single to middle and his second single to right.

DOC NEWTON'S REVENGE.

Pitched Against Reds and Shut His Old Pals Out.

CINCINNATI, July 7.—The Cincinnati team could do nothing with Newton today, he only allowing them five scattered hits. These were made in the first four innings. The Cincinnati team played a miserable game in the field. Attendance, 500. Score:

TITUS BEAT SCHOLES.

The Canadian Boy Was Not Quite Fast Enough for New York Sculler.

HENLEY, ENG., July 7.—C. S. Titus of the Union Boat club of New York, beat Louis Scholes of Don Rowing club of Toronto, in a preliminary heat for the Diamond sculls. Titus won by a length and a half. Time, 8:35.

J. Beresford of the Kensington Rowing club beat K. Johnson of the Twickenham Rowing club by two and a half lengths. Time, 8:47.

H. B. Etherington-Smith of the Leander Rowing club beat L. X. F. Prevel of the Club Natique of Nice, easily. Time, 8:43.

In consequence of the unusual number of competitors for the diamond sculls, and in order that none of the 11 scullers will be obliged to row two heats the same day, three preliminary races were decided this afternoon.

The send-off was beautiful; Titus caught the water first, but Scholes, putting more power into his work, after a few strokes had the lead. The rates of pulling were 37 strokes for the first minute. Scholes gradually increased his lead and was 6 feet ahead of his opponent at Temple Island. Titus, however, spurted up to the Toronto oarsman several times and the biggest lead Scholes ever had was three-quarters of a length. The half way mark was reached in four minutes and six seconds. Going along the Meadows, Titus put on a great spurt and almost got up even with his competitor, but Scholes got away again. It was a grand race to Phyllis court when Titus fairly spurted to the front. Scholes responded gamely, but was never able to get on even terms again. At the grandstand Titus drew clear and went away, winning a very fine race.

HALL THE WINNER IN RECORD TIME

HANDICAP WAS TOO MUCH FOR FREEMAN TO OVERCOME.

World's Record Held by Harry Elkes Was Broken by Freeman—Shirley Sprung a Surprise in the Ten-Mile Amateur Race.

Tommy Hall of England won the 20-mile motor-paced race at the Colosseum last night though Howard Freeman, his opponent, broke the world's record for the distance by over 10 seconds. Hall was victor by virtue of the handicap of three laps or ¾ mile which he was allowed, as Freeman could overcome but one and three-quarter laps of the distance. Hall thus won the race by one and a quarter laps. Freeman after starting from the opposite side of the track and having caught and passed Hall twice was about a fourth way around the track in the lead when the two pistol shots signaled the close of the contest with world's record time of 20:08 4-5. The former record held by Harry Elkes was 29:10.

Task Too Much for Freeman.

The fastest mile of the race was the seventh, ridden in 1:21 2-5, while the world's record made by Champion on the local track is a fraction over 1:18. The 10 miles were ridden in 14:28 1-5, against the record of 13:52 and a fraction made here by Champion.

The race was a very pretty one and most interesting, the followers of each rider having a chance to enthuse as first one and then the other was gaining the advantage. Freeman starting from the opposite side of the track gained from the start, but could never get as much as a two lap lead, while the fact that he must gain three to win gave the admirers chance for hope throughout and a chance to enthuse whenever Hall reduced the lead.

Freeman Passed Hall.

Freeman passed Hall for the first time, having gained half a lap, at the end of the first mile and passed him for the second and last time in the sixth. He then gradually increased his lead until he was one and seven-eighths laps to the good, his greatest lead of the race, in the tenth mile.

In the seventh mile Freeman lost his pace and aroused enthusiasm by the pretty fashion in which he caught on again without losing much ground or having his motor machine slow up materially.

From the fifteenth mile on Hall began to ride stronger and cut down the lead until in the eighteenth Freeman was but three lengths ahead. Hall could not catch Freeman, however, and the latter soon regained almost all of his old lead.

Amateur Was Interesting.

The ten-mile amateur furnished one of the prettiest finishes ever seen in Pittsburgh. Percy Brown, the star of the local track, was riding like a fiend on the last lap, and had been conceded the race by all who have watched his record on the new track. S. A. Shirley had a surprise up his sleeve, however, and jumped out a half peg from the finish, never being headed, and winning by three lengths from Brown. Dahlke was away in the lead on laps, with 10 against four for Leonard. He was the victim of a spill in the sixth mile. Brown riding into him on the turn by a sudden switch down the track. C. C. Hartman also went down and out, but Dalhke was cheered when he returned after losing three laps, and won one of the prizes. The crowd was greatly taken with Shirley's victory, as it was a sensational surprise, Brown being imagined almost invincible. The summary:

Ten-mile amateur open for laps, miles and race. Race won by S. A. Shirley; second, Percy Brown; third, Wilkie Hall; fourth, C. Dahlke, 10; Wilkie Hall, 6; C. B. Leonard, 4; S. A. Shirley, 3; Percy Brown, 3; Robert C. Thomas, 3; William Hofledt, 3; Charles Reel, 2; Harry Bupp, 2; C. Hartman, 2. Winner of most miles, Percy Brown, 4; S. A. Shirley, 3; Leonard, 2; Dahlke, 1. Time by miles, 3:19 2-5, 4:32 4-5, 6:31 2-5, 8:16 3-5, 11:44 1-5, 13:15, 16:40, 20:14 and 24:14 2-5.

Five-mile exhibition single motor race, won by Charles Turville by a length over Jacob Derosier. Time by miles, 1:40 3-5, 3:19, 5:04 1-5, 6:47, 8:25 3-5.

Twenty-mile motor paced race, Howard Freeman paced by Fisher and Derosier vs. Tommy Hall, behind Galvin and Turville, won by Hall by one and a quarter laps out of a three-lap handicap. Time by miles, 1:26, 2:53, 4:17 4-5, 5:43 1-5, 7:09 2-5, 8:33 3-5, 10:04 1-5, 11:31 4-5, 12:58 3-5, 14:28 1-5, 15:35 4-5, 17:02 2-5, 18:31, 20:19 3-5, 21:47 2-5, 23:17 2-5, 24:47 2-5, 26:14 4-5, 27:44, 29:08 45.

McCloskey, a popular Homestead player, who has been ill with fever, appeared in the game, taking Kenney's place at bat in the eighth inning. He was given an ovation. The score:

TEN STRIKERS ARRESTED

Sheriff Reiff Declares the Situation Around Williamstown Is Serious and He May Ask Governor Stone to Call Out Troops.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 7.—With President John Mitchell in New York and all the other miners' leaders at Nanticoke attending the annual convention of district No. 1, strike headquarters was an extremely quiet place today. Conditions in and about the collieries remain unchanged excepting that the heavy rains of the last few days have increased the amount of water somewhat in many of the mines.

The district convention at Nanticoke today disposed of considerable business of a routine nature. About 400 delegates representing 75,000 mine workers are attending the convention, which embraces all the territory from Forest City, 22 miles north of Scranton, to Shickshinny, 16 miles south of here. Reports of officers were presented and referred to committees and the balloting for officers was begun. There was some opposition to Secretary John Dempsey and Vice President Adam Ruscavage. President T. D. Nichols will be unanimously re-elected.

NEW YORK, July 7.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, who arrived in the city last night, declined to discuss the strike.

Mr. Mitchell spent the day in company with H. M. Taylor of Braidwood, Ill., a soft coal operator. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Mitchell both asserted that they were together simply as boyhood friends.

Mr. Mitchell denied a report that he came to consult with labor leaders here in regard to the advisability of the soft coal miners breaking their contracts with the operators to enter upon a general strike.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 7.—Sheriff Reiff swore out warrants today for the arrest of ten strikers at Williamstown, this county, for inciting to riot and interfering with his deputies in protecting non-union men going to and from work in the mines.

The sheriff says the situation in the region is critical, and that if there is another outbreak like that of last Wednesday, when he and his deputies were assaulted while protecting non-union miners, he will call upon Governor Stone for militia.

SHAMOKIN, PA., July 7.—At a late hour last night an explosion of dynamite occurred at Richard's colliery. The explosive had been placed between the houses of James Fitzgibbons and Martin Shock, who are boarding several non-union men. All the windows in the houses were shattered, but the inmates were not injured. Three unknown men were seen running away from the scene shortly before the explosion.

NINE THOUSAND MEN QUIT WORK

STRIKE OF FREIGHT HANDLERS IN CHICAGO IS BEGUN.

Railroads Have Some Men Ready to Go to Work, and Perishable Goods Are Handled — Twenty-Four Roads Are Affected.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 7.—The strike of 9,000 freight handlers in Chicago was called today, and every freight house of the 24 railroads concerned is practically tied up. Business men fear that the strike will be the most serious which has affected their interests in years.

The strike was called by a committee appointed at a meeting of 1,000 freight handlers held last night. The committee was instructed to call a strike within 48 hours unless the railroads should meet the demands of the men at once for an increase in wages, extra pay for overtime and holidays, and recognition of the union. Action on these instructions was taken sooner than had been expected.

By messengers and by telephone, according to the strike leaders, all other members of the Interior Freight Handlers and Warehousemen's union were called out. At noon President Curran of the union reported that his men were all out and that it was all but impossible for any freight to enter Chicago, or to leave it. Many of the railroads had small forces of men previously hired on hand when the strike was called, and by adding to it men from other departments managed to handle perishable commodities.

In the hiring of non-union men, it is said, the railroads run a serious risk of bringing about a strike of the teamsters, who recently won their fight from the packers. The teamsters, it is said, will refuse absolutely to have anything to do with freight in any way handled by non-union men.

The strike leaders include foremen, check, recheck, receiving and delivery clerks, sealers, callers, weighmasters, stevedores and elevator men.

That the railroads are expecting a strenuous struggle was made evident today, when the chief detective of an eastern road bought 100 billies, the entire stock of a prominent firm.

It was reported tonight that the Illinois Central will bring 400 men from the south to take the places of strikers. Other roads were said to be taking similar measures, bringing in men from the country districts, or from other cities, on their systems.

Chairman Job of the state board of arbitration said: "I have sent letters to the managers of the 24 roads affected, and to President Curran of the freight handlers, offering the services of the board of them."

COLLISION IN HARBOR.

Steamer Cumberland Forced to Hurry Back and Land Her Passengers.

BOSTON, July 7.—In a thick fog, the Eastern Steamboat Company's steamer Cumberland and the United Fruit Company's steamer Admiral Farragut were in collision in the harbor today.

The Cumberland, in a sinking condition, put back to her dock and landed safely the passengers with whom she had started for Maine ports, only half an hour before. The Admiral Farragut, with bent stem and damaged forward works, steamed more slowly up to her berth.

Was Not Making a Bluff.

NEW YORK, July 7.—A man committed suicide this afternoon by jumping from the Brooklyn bridge. A rope was thrown to him from a passing tug, but he refused to grasp it and soon sank.

THINKS IRON THE BEST.

Capt. Rodgers Will Build Iron Hull Towboat, Thereby Discarding Steel.

The Rodgers Sand Company, of which Capt. W. B. Rodgers is the president, contemplates building an iron hull towboat during the coming winter. The firm is now giving almost enough towing to outside boats to keep another towboat busy.

Capt. Rodgers is not in favor of the steel hull boat. He says, however, that steel is good, but iron is far superior to steel for river work. He gives as a reason that iron does not rust as readily as steel and that an iron hull towboat will last a life time. Iron plates are more expensive than steel. The engines of the steamer which he contemplates building will have about 16-inch cylinders, giving her sufficient power to hitch into a fair-sized tow and go along with it at good speed. The company is at present making improvements costing upward of $100,000. Capt. Rodgers spends a part of the time at the various departments of the company.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat Catherine Davis is laid up at Catlettsburg undergoing some repairs.

The steamer Keystone State, leaving last night for Cincinnati, was full of freight.

The Dave Wood was shipping up yesterday and was expected to get away some time late in the day.

Fred Erwin is the partner of Capt. Holmes Harker, Jr., this trip, at the wheel of the towboat W. H. Flint.

The steamer Kanawha, leaving today for Charleston, will have a nice freight trip and a large number of people on it.

The Jim Wood, with 42 pieces, the largest tow ever taken through the bridges at Cincinnati, was made successfully.

Pilots Frank and Albert Culp are taking the Jim Brown south and Oliver Douds and John H. Dippold are on the I. N. Bunten.

The pool towboat Cadet is much admired by river men. She is one of the handsome little boats that plies on the local streams.

More than 170,000 bushels of wheat arrived in St. Louis yesterday. Owing to small number of boats in the trade, most of it came by rail.

The Gertrude and Elizabeth exchange trips Sundays, so as to keep the Elizabeth in the trade out of Pittsburgh Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The packet Gertrude and the towboat H. P. Dilworth had a race through the harbor yesterday afternoon, but the Gertrude walked away from the towboat.

It is reported that some Pittsburghers are negotiating for the purchase of the steamer Liberty, to run her in the excursion trade. The Liberty is a packet and is a new boat.

The towboats J. B. Finley, Joseph B. Williams, Raymond Horner, Alice Brown, Harry Brown, Boaz and Coquette are putting their tows of coal through the canal at Louisville so as to go south with them.

Capt. Timothy Callahan, superintendent of construction for the Rodgers Sand Company, left last night for Marietta to look after the finishing touches being made to the Harriett, which will soon be ready for business.

Oarsmen made their appearance in the harbor of the Monongahela river yesterday and attracted some attention. It has been many seasons since the game around into the Monongahela to exercise.

Capt. James S. Smith, who is at his farm near Pulaski, Ill., was painfully injured by being kicked by a mule last week. In a letter to Capt. Drown of Harbor No. 28, Capt. Smith says he did not mind the kick as much as being forced to give up a fishing trip by the occurrence.

The Higgins Oil & Fuel Company of Beaumont are having two large oil-carrying barges built in Orange, Texas, for service. One barge is 150 feet over all, 33 feet beam and 11 feet depth of hold. The second barge measures 185 feet over all, 33 feet beam and 15 feet depth of hold. The first has a capacity of 7,000 barrels of oil and the second for 10,000 barrels.

There is still a scant coalboat stage of water in the Ohio river and boats are taking advantage of it. The following steamers yesterday departed with coal tows: Tom Lysle, 4 barges; A. Bunton, 6 boats; Jim Brown, 4 barges, 6 boats; Stella Moren, 4 barges. The Lysle and Moren are helping the Brown and Bunton out. The total shipment since the rise began is now estimated at 400 coalboats and 402 barges, containing 16,543,000 bushels of coal. There was 5.6 feet on the Market street mark last night.

The New Orleans States says: Mr. Charles W. Wood of B. B. Wood & Son has returned recently from a big job of work successfully accomplished. On the 26 day of May last the towboat J. B. Finley, en route to this city, met with an accident, sinking 19 boats of coal and one barge of steel rails, some 100 miles this side of Memphis, near Old Town. The Monongahela Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, owning the Finley, contracted with Mr. Wood for the raising of the rails. There were 775 tons of the rails and owing to the breaking of the barge they were found in places 20 to 40 feet deep, and partly covered with the coal. Mr. Wood recovered 755 tons of the lot, and most of which he has delivered already, the balance being in a barge at Helena awaiting a tow.

ENORMOUS TRADE FOR STEEL RAILS IS IN PROSPECT

Significance of Pennsylvania Railroad's Big Order for Next Year.

NO PRICE FLUCTUATIONS

Production Will Be Greater Than Ever, but Probably Will Be Exceeded by the Demand—No Let-Up in Steel Earnings.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 7.—The announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had placed orders for 207,000 tons of steel rails for delivery in 1903 created considerable interest in iron and steel circles in this city. Inasmuch as the steel rail requirements of the Pennsylvania last year aggregated less than 175,000 tons, the contract placed for 1903 is regarded as not only indicating the prosperity of the railroads, but that the steel mills of the country next year will produce more rails than in any preceding year. An official of a prominent railroad company today said the increased tonnage in rails laid by the other railroads would be in proportion to that of the Pennsylvania.

"I am firmly convinced," said he, "that the capacity of the rail mills next year will be inadequate to the demand. The steel rail pool has established a reasonable price for their products and for this reason we feel safe in placing our requirements for next year so far in advance. If railroads held to the opinion that steel rail prices would be subject to fluctuations they would delay making their estimates until they were better acquainted with the outlook. As it is they believe there will be no change in prices notwithstanding, that raw material is much higher than a year ago. They have taken everything into consideration, and have arrived at the conclusion that the prosperity of the railroads will continue throughout next year. This, together with the reasonable policy on the part of the steel rail pool, which is dominated by the United States Steel Corporation, is responsible for the early action of the railroads in the matter of equipment for next year."

More Orders Expected.

It is estimated that the orders for steel rails already placed in 1902 for 1903 delivery exceeded 300,000 tons, which is a little less than a third of the possible production in that year. Now that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has completed its estimate for next year it is believed that orders for equipment will come in more rapidly from now on than at any time since the steel rail pool announced its policy for 1903. At $28 a ton the Pennsylvania's order for steel rails for delivery next year aggregates $5,796,000.

No Let-up in Steel Earnings.

A representative of the United States Steel Corporation, today said he would be surprised if the earnings of the combine during the current quarter fall below the earnings of the quarter ended June 30. The increase during the last three months was due largely to profits derived from the transportation of ore. It is believed the shipments of ore this month will be larger than in June. Shipments from the Minnesota mines last month aggregated 2,350,000 gross tons, the heaviest month's shipment known. As the production of finished steel in July, August and September will be equal, if not greater, than that of the preceding three months, the outlook from the standpoint of earnings could not be brighter.

Alabama Mine Strike Ended.

J. C. Maben, president of the Sloss-Sheffield Iron & Steel Company, the second largest producer of pig iron in the south, has telegraphed to an officer of the company here that the miners in Alabama, who have been on strike, and the operators have signed the scale, and the miners will return to work Tuesday. Details have not yet been received but the telegram said the principal demands of the miners had been withdrawn. The miners of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, Sloss-Sheffield Iron Company and Republic Iron & Steel Company were involved in the strike.

Centralizing White Lead Plants.

Progress is being made in the centralization of the white lead industry, and there are indications that the plans of those who desire to bring about control of the trade by a combination of the existing companies will succeed. The undertaking is still at the stage of securing options on plants, and in a few cases there have been radical differences of opinion between the promoters of the new company and the owners of the plants as to the value of the properties; but these matters are being gradually adjusted.

Too Busy to Consolidate.

The agitation among the principal steel plate producers of the country looking toward consolidation, which was active some time ago, has subsided for the time on account of the extraordinary activity in the trade. The demand for steel plate and, consequently, the profits from operation, are such that the idea of combination does not hold out the great inducements it formerly did. On the contrary, the owners of mills are too much absorbed in the serious problem of meeting the demand for their product.

The demand for steel plate shows no sign of abating, and every mill is being worked to its full capacity. Prices remain the same, at $40 a ton for delivery in ordinary course, and higher prices up to $50 or more a ton for quick delivery.

New Jersey Corporations.

The United States Foundry & Sales Company was incorporated in New Jersey today, with a capital stock of $150,000. The company will operate a plant for the manufacture of iron and steel in South Norwalk, Conn. The incorporators are Horace S. Gould, John Billings and L. B. Bailey, all associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey.

The American Railways Casting Company is organizing with a capital of $500,000, and papers of incorporation will be filed in New Jersey soon.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 7.—Idaho is still furnishing news of rich gold finds. Special dispatches from Weisser say that a large body of free milling ore has been uncovered on the west fork of Monumental creek in the Thunder mountain section, and new strikes also are reported on Holy Terror, Trap, Beaver, Snowslide and Big creek. On Hat mountain, near Weisser, a six-foot ledge of quartz assaying $51 gold, has been discovered. In the Shelton district, where free gold in large quantities to the pan was recently found, over 100 claims already have been located. Late news from Thunder Mountain proper is encouraging. There is considerable sickness in the camp, however, and supplies are still scarce and expensive.

Franklin Farrell announces that he will soon build a smelter of 4,000 tons daily capacity at East Butte, Mont., to treat the ores of that district.

R. Horton Batcheler, manager of the Aberdeen Copper Company, returned today from an inspection of the company's properties at Lordsburg, N. M. He reports that 25,000 tons of ore averaging $13 a ton are in the dumps, and 75,000 tons of the same grade blocked out in the Orphans' Home mine. Copper glance in the form of kidneys, assaying 82 per cent in the red metal, has been found in the 130-foot level of the malachite. Three shafts are being sunk at the rate of 75 feet a week each. While the shipments of gold from Nome have not been large so far this season, reports indicate that the yield will exceed that of 1901. The Kuskokwim diggings in the country south of the lower Yukon are proving rich, but Koyukuk is not, according to reports, coming up to expectations. Nenana will soon be supplied with plenty of water for mining purposes by a system of canals now under construction.

The Black Rifle Porcelain, Clay & Marble Company has closed a deal with an eastern company for the sale of all the mica mines on its property in the Black Hills, S. D. Over 2,000 tons of mica are in the storehouse, and the mica exposed in the various ledges is estimated at 2,000 tons more.

The Metal Market.

Domestic metal markets today were, as a general rule, quiet and destitute of special feature. Tin here ruled dull and held close to old quotations, spot closing at $28 00@28 25. The English market eased off 5s, spot closing at £125 15s and futures at £123 15s. There was also a decline in the foreign price of copper. Here lake metal ruled quiet, lower at 15 5s 0d and futures at £12 10s. The local market was very dull and in some instances on a lower basis. Standard, spot to August, closed at $11 37½@11 75; lake, $12 00@12 20; electrolytic, $11 87½@12 00; casting, $11 75@ 11 75. Lead showed no change either in tone or price, being quoted at 4¼c in the local market. Abroad quotations gained 2s 6d, closing at £11 5s 3d. In spelter the foreign market price improved 2s 6d at £18 17s 6d, but locally remained as last quoted at 5¼c and firm. The iron market on the other side was higher and firm, with Glasgow closing at 53s 4d and Middlesboro at 51s. The New York market ruled quiet and steady without change. Warrants remained nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, was quoted at $22 00@23 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $21 00@22 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $21 50@22 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $21 50@22 50.

Lethargy in Control in Wall Street

NEW VENTURES ARE NOT MADE VERY FREELY

Weekly Earnings Report Helps the Bituminous Coal Carriers.

ROCK ISLAND'S BIG JUMP

Sensational Rise of Five and One Half Points—Missouri Pacific Also Has a Good Day—General Market Fails to Respond.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 7.—There was very little done in the stock market today in the way of buying and selling. Most of the professional traders took the precaution to close up their commitments last Thursday afternoon, in view of the possibility of unexpected developments over the three-days' holiday, and there was not much inclination apparent today to make new ventures. The developments in regard to the crops were considered favorable. The sun and warm weather were regarded as good for harvesting in the southwest, and the renewed rains yesterday were ignored. The weekly statistics of railroad traffic were also promising for a continuance of large earnings. The movement of miscellaneous freight westward is reported to be maintained on an unprecedented scale, and rates to be firmly held.

Local Traffic Good.

The so-called local traffic, too, which is so important a factor in the aggregate in the prosperity of railroads is reported as unusually large and varied. The crop news made the grain-carrying railroads prominent. The most conspicuous movements were in stocks associated with the interests that make up the so-called western contingent. Rock Island made a sensational jump of 5½ points. There were more substantial and better-maintained advances in some of the other grain-carriers, notably Missouri Pacific. The disclosure by recent railroad reports that the soft coal-carrying railroads are profiting materially by reason of the increased demand for soft coal since the mining of anthracite has been suspended gave another impetus of strength in which Pennsylvania and Hocking Valley were the leaders.

Then Comes a Reaction.

But the advances were largely restricted to the leaders in both groups, and when it was perceived that the general market failed to respond in sympathy, the rise was discontinued and gave place to reaction. The closing was heavy and showed all of the animation gone out of the market. The hugging of the gold export point by foreign exchanges and the interior demand for currency which sprang up over the holiday interval were repressive influences, which were reinforced by the poor bank statement.

The bond market was quite firm and showed the influence of demand for reinvestment of July disbursements. Total sales, par value, $2,750,000. United States refunding 2s declined ⅛, the old 4s, registered, ½, and do coupon ½ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 391,900 shares.

Rock Island makes a sensational jump of 5½ points, but it is not all held.

Railroad reports showing increased earnings for soft coal carriers helps the stocks of those roads.

The grain carriers of the west are helped by the improved harvesting weather.

The general market fails to respond to the call of the leaders, and the close is heavy.

United States Steel sales 13,000 common, 7,460 preferred.

Local Stocks Were Very Dull, but the Market Was Firmer

WINDOW GLASS ISSUES WERE UP FRACTIONS

Crucible Steel Common Declined to the Lowest of the Year.

U. S. STEELS VERY DULL

Westinghouse Electric Seconds Were Fractionally Higher but Dull—Fire Proofing Preferred Declined $1. Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Higher.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was very dull, but the tone was, as a whole, quite steady and firm. In some spots weakness developed on selling orders, but not enough was done in any one thing to cause any material change one way or another. The firmness was probably due to sympathy with the east and the belief that the money market would shortly become appreciably easier. The principal activity was near the opening and in Crucible Steel common, over 800 shares of which changed hands during the session at 21¼ @21. The close was at 21, a loss of ⅛, near the lowest price of the year. The preferred was much less active, but closed firmer and ¼ higher at 85¾. United States Steel common sold 300 shares, opening firmer at 38⅝, but reacting to 38⅜ shortly after midday. At the close it was again firmer at 39 bid without offers. The preferred was not quoted all day. There was a little show of life in American Window Glass common, but less than 500 shares came out. After opening at 62¼ the price advanced and closed firmer at 62⅝ sales and bid, no offers coming under 63. The preferred sold unchanged at 93, but was afterward bid up to 93½, with offers at 93½. Westinghouse Electric seconds were a shade firmer and ⅝ higher at 104⅜, while the firsts quoted at 106. Westinghouse Airbrake did not sell, but offered at 184 without bids. Fire Proofing preferred was very dull and $1 lower at 40, with that price bid for more. The common did not sell. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was quite firm and advanced ¾ to 92 on sales of less than 200 shares. The advance is due to the expectation of the regular 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend this week. The common was dull and neglected. A sale of 123 shares of the Allegheny Traction Company occurred at 51, an advance of $3 a share and a new high record. The bank and trust shares were dull and without important changes in value. Bonds were also dull but steady.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

Sylvester L. Bolcky was yesterday elected a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, succeeding Charles E. Lambing, who recently retired from the firm of James Carothers & Co.

These brokers went away for the Fourth of July: Humphries Miller, to Remus Point; E. N. Doty and Stansbury Sutton, to Cambridge Springs and Erie, and R. C. Hall to Lakewood, N. Y.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Foreign exchange remains very firm at about $4.88.

Whitney & Stephenson were the sellers of Silver Coal 6s.

Hill & Co. were buyers of American Trust Company at 118.

For 35 minutes after 2 o'clock there was not a sale of any kind.

There are further reports that the Illinois Central has secured the Eastern Illinois.

The advance in Hocking Valley was based upon a revival of the rumor of the retirement of the preferred stock.

Robinson Bros. were sellers of United States Steel common, and Hill & Co. sold Westinghouse Electric seconds.

Mexican Central had support, though the decline in silver prices is unfavorable to this and other railroads in that country.

The highest price at which Crucible Steel common was sold on the Pittsburgh stock exchange was 28¾, and the lowest 19.

The Coal Trade Journal says that the anthracite miners are beaten in the strike, but that their leaders will not admit the fact.

Henry Sproul & Co. offered 1,000 Pittsburgh, Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad common at 36⅝ near the close; this was the biggest offer of the day.

William R. McDowell, teller at the Citizens National bank, has accepted a position with the Second National bank, and will enter upon his new duties about the 15th.

During the first half hour 19 different trades, divided among eight stocks, were posted. The heaviest trading was in Crucible Steel common, which sold 685 shares at 21@21⅛.

One of the unusual trades of the day was a block of 123 Allegheny Traction which Darr, Lake & Moore sold to Robinson & Orr at 51; the last sale was January 13 at 48.

Near the close Carothers & Co. offered to trade 1,000 shares of the Western Deposit National bank at $1,350 per share for 100 shares of the Union Trust Company at $1,500 a share, they paying the difference in cash.

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday adopted a "hot weather" measure and suspended the rules prohibiting smoking on the floor during the session from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. during July and August.

Chicago was yesterday put on an equal footing with New York and the United States treasurer in the matter of making currency transfers by telegraph. Hitherto New York was the only city in the country enjoying that commercial privilege.

Holmes & Sons were the principal sellers of Crucible Steel common at the opening, disposing of nearly 500 shares. This firm has been a heavy seller of the stock in times past, particularly during some of the big raids to which it has been subjected.

Approximate figures from an official source of the results of the underwriting of the joint 4 per cent bonds, issued in exchange for the stock of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, show that the result is a profit of about $2,000,000 in cash.

The remodeled quarters of the Pittsburgh Trust Company were yesterday occupied again and the institution now has one of the most complete and handsome banking offices in the city. The savings department and the safe deposit department are also to be remodeled.

The aggregate of bond sales in June, according to the United States investor, was $27,244,254, exclusive of government loans. Of this total $23,310,093 were issued by corporations and towns, $1,624,161 by counties, and $2,310,000 by states. CRAFTON THIEF GETS TEN YEARS FOR BURGLARY

Court Gives Warning to Others in Sentencing Joseph Sullivan.

NEW TRIAL FOR GRIFFIN

Daniel H. Bean, Who Pleaded No Defense to Charge of Perjury, Sent Two Years to the Workhouse. Other Criminal Court News.

In the criminal court yesterday Joseph Sullivan, convicted of burglary and felonious assault and battery, was sentenced to the Western penitentiary for 10 years. He and Martin Griffin were found guilty of taking part in the safe-cracking and burglary at Crafton on April 30 last. Griffin was granted a new trial.

Sullivan was sentenced to serve six years on the burglary charge and four years on the charge of felonious assault, which was preferred by Policeman Edward Westcott, whom he shot on the night of the burglary.

Immediately after their conviction motions for new trials were made. Sullivan's motion was refused point blank, but Griffin's case was argued by Attorney W. C. Sullwagon. In his argument, he asserted that both men had been treated unfairly at the hearing before Alderman Groetzinger, who, it was claimed, deprived them of a public hearing. Attorney Sullwagon also said that Officer Westcott could not identify the men at the hearing, but at court could readily point out his man.

The case of Daniel H. Bean was up for argument. Bean, on June 28, pleaded no defense to a charge of perjury preferred by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and later tried to withdraw his plea. The court would not listen to this unless some law could be produced upholding such a course.

Bean's attorney, Rody P. Marshall, contended that the defendant had been imposed upon by the railways company's attorney, who, it is alleged, agreed to ask the court to suspend sentence if Bean would withdraw his civil suit against the railways company and plead guilty. Later the attorney refused to do this.

Judge Evans said it would have made no difference what the prosecutor's attorney might have asked, as the court was entirely familiar with all the facts in the case, and anything looking to leniency for the defendant would not have been heeded from the counsel for the prosecution. Bean was sentenced two years in the workhouse and fined $50.

Bean sued the railways company for damages for the alleged loss of the sight of an eye and got a $1,000 verdict. He said he received the injury on a street car by a conductor's arm striking his glasses, breaking them and injuring his sight. The company alleged that Bean's eye was injured prior to the time of the street car incident and asserted he swore falsely concerning the time of the injury.

J. G. Bemark and J. E. Baumgart were fined $100. They were accused of misrepresenting the financial condition of the Keystone Sign and Decorating Company and, by so doing, got G. W. Witter to invest money in the concern. They were tried and found guilty.

At the argument of the case the court sustained the judgment of Alderman Charles Von Moss of Allegheny against E. Heineman.

The court refused to set aside the verdict in the case against Joseph Johnasik for assault and battery. The jury returned a verdict acquitting the defendant, but placing the costs on Justice of the Peace G. W. Forsythe of Natrona, whom they found to be the real prosecutor.

The matter of the incorporation of Ingram into a borough was taken up for argument, but was continued on account of the deficiency in the map showing the outlines of the proposed borough.

APPROVES TRUSTEE'S ACT.

Court Refuses to Compel Western University to Grant F. Kurtz Addy a Degree.

An opinion was handed down yesterday by Judge E. H. Stowe, in the mandamus proceedings of F. Kurtz Addy against the board of trustees of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college and others, an action to compel the defendants to award the plaintiff a degree of doctor of medicine. The court entered judgment for the defendants at the cost of the plaintiff.

The court says the refusal of the trustees to approve the recommendation of the faculty that a degree be granted, was solely a matter for the trustees, unless in a case of bad faith or in violation of the principle of right and justice, as to indicate their conduct was not only wrongful but perverse. Nothing of the kind is alleged in this case, the court says. Under the law, it is stated, the faculty has no right to give or authorize a diploma until the same meets with the approval of the trustees. In conclusion the court declares it is not necessary to examine into the reasons given by the trustees for their refusal to grant a diploma.

Arrott Denies a Claim.

In the United States Circuit Court an affidavit of defense was filed in the equity suit of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company against James W. Arrott, Jr., an action to compel the defendant to deliver to the plaintiffs certain letters patent on improvements in dredges for pulverulent material. The plaintiffs alleged that while in their employ the defendant took out letters patent at their expense and agreed to sign them over to the company. The defendant denies these allegations and says that the plaintiffs were allowed by him to manufacture the articles for which they were to pay him a royalty.

Perrett Takes An Appeal.

Henry Perrett, by his attorney, John S. Lamble, yesterday in orphans' court, took an appeal from the decision of the register in admitting to probate a document as the will of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Perrett. The share of the son in the decedent's estate is left in trust, and this is excepted to. The questions to be determined are whether Mrs. Perrett possessed the necessary mental capacity to make a will and whether or not undue influence was not used by Attorney L. K. Porter, Attorney John M. Dunn and Elizabeth Summers, daughter of the decedant.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury convened yesterday and approved of the proposed improvement of the following roads:

WISH ADDITIONAL SPACE.

Pittsburgh Manufacturers Anxious to Make More Exhibits at the Exposition.

Though the opening of the Pittsburgh exposition for its fourteenth season is still some eight weeks distant, the demand for space on the part of exhibitors is urgent and pressing, even this early. No less than four firms have asked for double the space occupied in the main building by them last year. A notable exhibit this season will be that of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, which is to display its finished products in the main building, and show methods of manufacture in Mechanical hall.

The exposition will open Wednesday, September 3, with a grand concert by the famous Sousa band, whose conductor has recently been signally honored in London, where King Edward from his sick bed has ordered Mr. Sousa's new march "Imperial Edward" to be placed in the repertoire of every band in the British army.

The Sousa engagement will continue until Wednesday, September 17, inclusive, its programs being crowded with the newest and best in the field of music. A feature of these two weeks will be an entire evening given up to the works of Pittsburgh composers.

Amalgamated Trustees Discuss Move to Defeat Reading Strike—Wage Prospect for Puddlers.

An agent of the American Steel & Iron Manufacturing Company, with headquarters at Reading, Pa., and mills at several points in that vicinity, is in Pittsburgh engaging men to take the place of the strikers, who are supported by the Amalgamated association. The matter was considered yesterday at the regular quarterly meeting of the trustees of the association.

The detail wage agreement of the Amalgamated association with the American Steel Hoop Company and the American Tinplate Company has not been settled, but the association is withheld from radical action through the agreements for a year from July 1, signed before these detail demands were made.

Officers of the Amalgamated association will make the bimonthly wage adjustments next week. In the tinplate and sheet scales the selling prices of many months past preclude any wage change. In the bar iron scale, if average sales show the higher prices of present quotations, there may be an advance for the men.

BEVERIDGE IS SATISFIED.

Positively Declines to Become Candidate for the Vice Presidency.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 7.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge, in answer to a query whether he would be a candidate for vice president in 1904, said today: "I will under no circumstances become a candidate for vice president, and at no time have I been considering the matter. I am content with my work in the senate."

Among the senator's callers today was W. L. Penfield, solicitor of the state department at Washington, in whose defense he incurred the wrath of Senator Bailey.

Hair Escaping?

No wonder. Your hair is starving. Feed it before it all leaves you. Then you can keep what you have and add greatly to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair-food. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"One year ago today I had not one single hair on my head, and today I have as fine a growth of hair as any young man in my town, and just three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor did it."

QUAY AND BROWN FAILED TO MEET

EX-STATE SENATOR MADE SPECIAL TRIP FOR A CONFERENCE.

Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor Says Democratic State Ticket Will Be an Easy One for Republicans to Defeat This Fall.

Ex-State Senator William M. Brown of New Castle, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket, came to Pittsburgh yesterday morning and remained all day in the hope of getting to see Senator Quay. The senator remained quietly in his home in Beaver, however, and the two politicians did not meet.

"This is my second disappointment in the last three days in not getting to see the senator," said Mr. Brown as he was leaving for his home last night. "Last Saturday I went to Beaver in the belief that I would surely see Senator Quay, but he was in Pittsburgh on that day, and consequently I missed him.

"Senator Quay appears to be a much-hunted man in the last few days by local politicians, and it seems almost impossible for anyone to see him. My business, however, is not of such an important nature that I cannot wait. I merely wanted to confer with the senator on the coming campaign, and there is plenty of time to do that."

"What do you think of the Democratic state ticket, senator?" was asked.

"Well, it looks good in some respects, but it will be an easy one for the Republicans to defeat this fall. Both Pattison and Guthrie are strong men, but we will roll up the customary Republican state majority at the fall election without the least difficulty.

"The Democrats have but one issue in the coming campaign, and that is the tariff. That is so old and the country is so prosperous that it will prove a mighty weak argument to make a fight on. The Democrats have the poorest show imaginable of making any kind of a fight whatever."

"How about oleo, senator?"

"I will always occupy the same position on oleo that I have in the past. I am ready at any and all times to defend my position.

"I would not discriminate against any American pure food products. I do not believe it is right to do so. But I would discriminate against food products of other countries in the United States."

When Mr. Brown left for his home last night he stated that he would not return to Pittsburgh today to have a conference with Senator Quay. He said he might come down later in the week, but that as yet he had no arrangement to meet the senator and that he would, in all probability, have an appointment with him the next time he came to see him.
